TARIFF REBELS DEMAND LOOK AT TAX SECRETS

Move to Sift Profits of Corporations.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—Moves to obtain access to income tax records of corporations that are tariff beneficiaries were launched today by radicals and Democrats today as the Hawley-Smoot bill reached the floor of the senate.
The radicals sponsored a joint resolution introduced by Senator John J. Blaine (Rep., Wis.), authorizing all members of congress to have unlimited access to secret corporation income tax returns while the tariff bill is pending.
The Democrats through Senator F. M. Simmons (Dem., N. C.), ranking minority member of the finance committee, made it known that they will press a senate resolution directing the finance committee to obtain similar income tax information from the treasury. Senator Simmons, who was not ready to introduce his resolution, informed the senate after the Blaine resolution had been presented that he thought the same results could be obtained more easily by his proposal, which would not require action by the house.

Senate Down to Business.
This was the senate's first actual business day following its summer recess. It reconvened with a quorum in attendance, presided the tariff bill as reported from the finance committee by Senator Reed Smoot (Rep., Utah) permitted other bills and resolutions to be introduced, and held a brief executive session to refer Presidential nominations to committees. It is proposed to adjourn tomorrow until Monday, at which time debate on the tariff bill will actually commence.

The Blaine resolution was not referred to a committee, but was ordered to lie on the table, which means that it is in position for early action. The resolution provided that "during the pendency of the tariff bill before congress all returns of income taxes of corporations, and all papers, schedules and reports filed therewith or relating thereto shall be available to each member of congress and the committee thereof for their inspection and examination and use in the consideration of said tariff bill."

Senate "Any Law Contrary."
It was further provided that any member of congress might designate any person desired to make the inspection. A further clause provided that "any law contrary to the foregoing provisions is hereby suspended until final disposition of the tariff bill by congress."

The Simmons resolution makes use of a provision of the present law which permits the senate finance committee and the house of representatives to obtain income tax information from the treasury. Under his resolution Senator Simmons proposes to have the senate direct the finance committee to ask the treasury for specific information about income taxes of corporations which have sought increases in tariff duties.

It is believed that Democrats join forces on a compromise resolution it would not be surprising if they were able to force its adoption.
First Amendments Offered.
Offering of amendments was commenced today. Senator Park Trammell (Dem., Wis.) presented amendments including duties above the rates of the bill as reported on grapefruit, lemons, pineapples, beans, tomatoes, cucumbers, eggplant, celery, lettuce, and cabbage.

Senator Simmons notified the senate that the minority members of the finance committee had decided not to file a report.
"That does not mean," he said, "that we are not thoroughly opposed to the bill, but simply that we hold in abeyance our attitude relative to the different items until later."
Final action on the bill was taken during the morning by the full membership of the finance committee. The bill was reported, 11 to 8, by a straight party vote. Republicans voting in the affirmative and Democrats in the negative. Votes of five absentees were recorded by proxy.
The radicals held another conference but continued undecided as to procedure relative to the proposal to nullify tariff revision to agricultural products.

The tariff bill will be made the unfinished business tomorrow unless there is a hitch over sidetracking the it a joint congressional committee to study prohibition enforcement reorganization.

THE KIND SHE CAN'T AFFORD TO LOSE

Cool Today, Is Forecast; Ends 5 Days' Heat

A drop in temperature of nearly 30 degrees was promised last night to break the five day heat wave which has gripped Chicago along with most of the United States and Canada. With the sudden drop in temperature some hope was held out for relief from the dry weather which has been scorching northern Illinois for weeks, but the hope was only slight.
J. R. Lloyd, weather forecaster, predicted that there would be a light rain fall early this morning and possibly a little more through the forenoon, but at the best it will be little more than a sprinkle. The relief from the heat, however, will be complete and the cool weather will continue at least through Friday, according to Mr. Lloyd.
To Lower Temperature.
The low pressure area which has been causing the high temperatures here passed to the east last night. A shift in the wind early this morning, the advance guard of a high pressure area from the northwest, was expected to start the temperature downward.
The mercury, Mr. Lloyd said, may drop to 60 degrees and certainly will fall as low as 65.
In Chicago three deaths were attributed directly to the heat wave. The victims were Frank Lukowski, 40 years old, 2419 South Ashland avenue; Daniel Jeffries, colored, 31 years old, 531 Federal street, and Ralph Turner, 3 months old, 1524 West 18th street.
Ralph Thannan, 19 years old, of Cincinnati, a student at Techny institute, near North Brook, was drowned while swimming with several companions in a water filled clay pit at the rear of the school. Thannan dove into the water and did not come up. His companions recovered his body.
Fires Rage in East.
While Chicago sweltered in a temperature of 89 degrees at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, temperatures around 90 prevailed throughout the middle west and the Atlantic seaboard. The prolonged drought increased the forest fire hazard from Michigan across the New England states and down to Pennsylvania and Maryland. Hundreds of forest fires were smoldering and forest rangers were fighting the flames in half dozen states. In Pennsylvania a heavy downpour at Springfield, Mass. Rains brought some relief in some sections, particularly in northern Wisconsin, a heavy downpour at Rhinelander ending the menace of forest fires there. While the east sweltered snow fell in Montana and in the Colorado mountains.

WINS $2,000 ON TIP, BUT WANTS TOUT ARRESTED

E. M. Byrne, a mining engineer of Lexington, Ky., last night found himself richer by more than $2,000, but he wasn't satisfied.
Mr. Byrne acquired his winnings because a race track tout inadvertently steered him on a good thing, he told the police in asking that the tout be arrested.
The tout advised him to bet $500 on Brockway in the third race at Lincoln Fields yesterday. Byrne gave his advice $200 to bet with a bookmaker downtown, he said, and went to the track, where he placed $300 on Brockway to place. Brockway finished eleventh and Byrne started to tear up his tickets, when he discovered that the horse was a "field" horse and that Royal Omar, another "field" horse, had finished second, which made the tickets just as good as if Brockway had won. Royal Omar paid $18.46 for a $5 ticket and paid Mr. Byrne $3,769 for his $300.
But still Mr. Byrne feels the tout wasn't quite honest in advising him to bet on Brockway and he wants the tout to pay him the $200 betting money and also $400 he had loaned him previously.

before moon it was far north of its course.

Shortly after this it appeared over the little trading post of Houck, Ariz., showing that Chief Pilot Stowe had swerved sharply to the south, evidently seeking to swing about the storm. No further reports came about the ship until late today when an Indian runner appeared in Houck saying he had sighted a big plane on a mountain about ten miles from Houck.

Mail Carrier's Reported Injury.
Meanwhile a score or so of army and civilian planes had joined in the aerial search above all Arizona and western New Mexico. Then, in the early evening came the report (later questioned) that the rural mail carrier, Edward Thorsen, N. M., and that the big plane was smashed up in Black Rock valley, twenty-three miles south of Gallup, N. M., and that all aboard were dead.

While the Santa Fe railroad dashed this information into Los Angeles officials of the Transcontinental Air Transport were maintaining there was no evidence the mail carrier had been killed. A. T. A. T. field headquarters of the search, newspaper men were denied admittance to the field and camera with which they expected to get pictures of the wreck were confiscated.

Caused by Lightning.
From Gallup came advice which indicated the impression of the rural mail carrier was that the ship had been struck by lightning. Capt. Walter Perkins, United States department of commerce inspector for commercial airplanes, will fly to the scene of the wreck from Los Angeles in the morning to make an official survey.

While the official report of the A. T. A. T. company issued in Los Angeles said "early reports are that the accident was caused by a bolt of lightning striking the ship," Capt. Perkins' investigation is expected to develop the first official report of the cause of the accident.

The spot in Black Rock valley where the disaster occurred was passed over by a number of planes during the day, but they failed to spot it. There was considerable undergrowth at the scene.

Part of Rail-Air System.

New York, Sept. 4.—[Special.]—The plane which crashed in New Mexico, killing 9 persons, was part of a country rail-air system maintained by the Transcontinental Air Transport company and the Pennsylvania and Santa Fe railroads.

Passengers leaving New York take a Pennsylvania train to Columbus, O., thence they fly to Waynesburg, Okla., take a Santa Fe train to Clovis, N. M., and fly from Clovis to Los Angeles. The trip occupies 48 hours. The plane was on the last leg of a combination rail-air trip that started by Pennsylvania railroad train on Sunday night.

Col. Henderson Shocked.

Col. Paul Henderson, vice president of the Transcontinental Air Transport, tonight said: "I regret extremely, as do all of the officials of the Transcontinental Air Transport, the death of the passengers. The Transcontinental Air Transport has spared neither expense nor labor in its effort to make flying safe. This experience, sad as it is, will only spur us on to work the harder."

According to records at the office here, J. B. Stowe, pilot of the plane, had more than 5,000 hours of flying experience. Since the T. A. T. service was inaugurated on July 8, it has flown more than 255,000 miles without a single previous loss of life, accident or interruption of scheduled service, and has carried more than 1,500 passengers, of whom 559 were coast to coast passengers.

PILOT KNOWN HERE.

Stowe, pilot of the plane, was a Chilocan until last June, having piloted one of the Gray Goose air liners at the Municipal airport. He roomed with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fay, 6214 South Troy street, old friends of his. Mr. Fay last night said that Stowe formerly was a lieutenant in the army air corps, flying with the first pursuit squadron at Selfridge field.

WOOD LIGHTNING VICTIM

Needles, Cal., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—A sixty hour search for Maj. John H. Wood, 22, of Wauwat, Wis., ended today with discovery of his body behind the motor of his racing airplane 38 miles northwest of Needles. His mechanic, Ward Miller, 25, leaped to safety after the ship exploded early Monday.

News of the discovery was brought by E. Burl Smith and Bobby Lott, Los Angeles aviators, who led a search for Wood after his disappearance during a nonstop race to Cleveland from Los Angeles.

They landed a small biplane near the wreckage today. In the cabin cockpit they found Wood's torn body, resting directly behind the big 425

Dawes Report Shows Britain and U. S. Are Still Far Apart

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—A long communication from Ambassador Charles G. Dawes, carrying the latest British proposals for a tentative naval reduction agreement, furnished the basis for a protracted White House breakfast conference today attended by two cabinet members and the navy general board.

The Dawes communication, which was received at the state department late yesterday, disclosed that the United States and Great Britain are still far apart on the knotty cruiser tonnage question. Inability of the two governments to reach a tentative agreement on the comparative fighting values of the 6 inch and 8 inch gun cruisers and Great Britain's insistence on a total cruiser tonnage in excess of the maximum figures desired by President Hoover supplied the major stumbling blocks to the formulation of an early tentative agreement.

Makeup of Conference.
Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson and Joseph P. Cotton, his first assistant, represented the state department at the White House parley. Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams, Assistant Secretary Johnnie Adams, and Rear Admiral John Long, Jackson, Chase, Hough, and Reeves and Commander Train formed the naval contingent.

Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, veteran naval expert and American delegate to the Geneva three power conference and naval expert at several other limitation of armament discussions, did not attend today's conference, but will return to Washington within the next few days. It was announced today that the admiral, who left Washington last week for a short vacation, has been directed to return to the city as a result of the new developments in the naval reductions situation.

Officials Refuse Comment.
The Dawes communication came as somewhat of a surprise to American officials, as it had been anticipated that the British reaction to the latest American suggestions and tentative

Thus was completed the tragic tale told by the mechanic remembered an explosion while he was in the cabin pumping gasoline. He was hurled into space. As he lost consciousness he pulled the rip cord of the parachute strapped to his back. He knew nothing more till daybreak, when he found himself prostrate on the desert. A prospector saw him wandering and brought him here. He did not know what had happened to Wood or the plane.

Two Killed Testing Plane.
Tallulah, La., Sept. 4.—[U. P.]—While testing a plane to be put into passenger service, two employees of the Southern Dusters company were killed today when the ship went into a tailspin and crashed three miles north of here.

The dead are John Chason, 23, of Tallulah, and Eugene B. Schildhaus, formerly of Syracuse, N. Y. Schildhaus, a licensed pilot, was at the controls.

CLAIMS BRITAIN SCHEMES TO GIVE U. S. SMALL NAVY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—Opposition to any further reduction of American military forces on land is expressed by Rear Admiral W. V. Pratt, commander in chief of the United States fleet, in an article on disarmament printed today in the proceedings of the United States Naval Institute.

"Today," Admiral Pratt asserted, "America is disarmed practically relative to foreign powers, as to her military forces. Except for minor uprisings, it would be impossible for us to wage an aggressive war, even in the defense of the homeland. In case such a contingency should arise great national exertion would have to be made to place us even in a position of mediocre strength. To reduce our military armaments further might be to leave us a prey to internal dissension."

As for American sea forces, Admiral Pratt was of the opinion that the position of America would be fairly secure so long as we maintain the 5-5-3 standard set up by the Washington naval limitation treaty in 1922. He warned, however, against complete disarmament of the great powers, asserting that such a step would leave the major nations at the mercy of the smallest who did not choose to disarm.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Copyright, 1929, by The Chicago Tribune.]
GENEVA, Sept. 4.—The primary points of the agreement now under consideration between Washington and London for a naval accord are said to involve further sacrifices by America of her naval position and it granted would give Great Britain a clear cut victory.

It was said here today that the three points outstanding of the 20 for a full accord which Prime Minister MacDonald told the league of nations yesterday had not yet been settled are as follows:
FIRST—Disagreement regarding the displacement of new capital ships to replace old ones. Great Britain prefers 20,000 ton units, while the United States has proposed 27,000 ton units because a longer radius of action is required for American vessels, since America possesses practically no naval bases.

Britain Wants Many Cruisers.
SECOND—A disagreement on the tonnage of the small cruisers to remain at the disposal of the British outside of the party figures. The tonnage which Britain requires would upset the ratio.

THIRD—Disagreement over the limit for tonnage of destroyers. Britain is holding out for 1,800 tons, while America demands 3,000 tons because of the class of large destroyers in service in certain European navies.

This is the compromise which Britain offered at the tri-power conference here in 1927 which the United States rejected as destroying the parity agreed upon at Washington in 1921. Under this compromise Britain obtains as many 10,000 ton eight inch gun cruisers as America and maintains besides a large fleet of smaller cruisers of 5,500 to 6,000 tons carrying only six inch guns.

Insists on "Sea Police."

The MacDonald government insists that the British empire is in special need of these small cruisers as patrolling craft to patrol the world's sea lanes and protect British shipping. America's naval requirements are voiced by the Washington experts are for all American cruiser tonnage to be placed in maximum figures of 10,000 tons, armed with eight inch guns, as these craft alone are sufficiently powerful and have large enough cruising radius to protect American interests in foreign waters where America has no naval bases.

The first point, the capital ship proposal, is also aimed at the United States, as Britain possesses the only post-Jutland battleships, the Rodney and the Nelson, 35,000 tons apiece and carrying nine 16 inch guns, and built in 1916. America possesses no battleships which could cope with these giants.

"Mr. MacDonald is confident he can overcome the remaining obstacles," he said. "The French the sorest point was that London and Washington had got together on 17 out of 20 points on the naval disarmament question. The formidable though they seem, by personal contact with Washington," this Tribune was informed this afternoon, and as soon as further conversations with Ambassador Dawes indicate that there is an opportunity of overcoming these obstacles through mutual agreement, Mr. MacDonald will formally announce his intention of visiting the United States in order to confer with President Hoover and Mr. Stimson.

The premier realizes that an accord means concessions on both sides and is prepared to make whatever sacrifices are necessary to meet the United States half way.

Mr. MacDonald is leaving Geneva tomorrow night by train for Paris and will fly from there to London, where he expects to have another week-end conference with Gen. Dawes.

Stresemann to Make Address.
German Chancellor Stresemann arrived this afternoon and will speak at the assembly meeting tomorrow after French Premier Briand has made his address. The French premier is slated to make an outline of his project for a United States of Europe and will take pains to point out that such an association of continental powers would not be directed against the United States of America.

GIRL, RUN DOWN BY MOTORIST, DIES OF INJURIES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Chicago, Sept. 4.—A 16-year-old high school student, died yesterday in the Michael Reese hospital of injuries received Tuesday night when she was run down by an automobile in front of her home at 4577 Lake Park avenue. The driver, Sam Stone, 28 years old, 1104 Independence boulevard, was arrested by Hyde Park police, but was released within two hours on a no schedule bond. Stone will appear at the inquest today.

This death and two others resulted from the 1928 Cook county motor toll to 1928. The victims:

John Gonzales, 29 years old, 4245 South Paulina street. Died in the County hospital of injuries received Sunday when he was struck by a hit and run motorist in Melrose Park.

Max Klein, 59 years old, 7647 Yale avenue, a tailor. Fatally injured when he stepped from behind his parked car into the path of another driven by Fred Peart, 7914 Rhodes avenue. Peart was not held.

When she ran across the street in front of her home, Charlotte Kobler, 15 years old, 1533 Frontier avenue, was possibly fatally injured. She was struck by an automobile driven by Stanley Frowinski, 1475 Huron street, who was held.

Frank Moulster, 37 years old, of Milwaukee, was seriously injured when a barge he was second, one minute and twelve seconds behind J. C. Cone of Little Rock, Ark., was third. The planes left Cleveland shortly after 1:30 p. m. Thirteen planes started.

Burial to Be at Calvary.
The funeral sermon will be preached by the Rev. Father John H. Crowe of St. Ita's and the final rites will be said at the grave in Calvary cemetery.

The home of the former mayor at 541 Kenmore avenue was filled from morning until long into the night yesterday with sorrowing friends. The sawed of subdued weeping was present all the time and men and women glad with tearful eyes before the bier.

"All day long they have been coming and all day telephoning," said Thomas F. Keane, city collector in the Dever cabinet and a lifelong friend.
One of the few old cronies of Mr. Dever, who worked with him in the tannery forty years ago.

Was People's Confidence.
"Lots of these people," Keane continued, "never knew Mr. Dever personally. Some of them say they heard him speak when he campaigned for mayor the last time and he won their confidence and their liking by his straightforward, neighborly way of making a talk."

"In his speeches he talked to the people as if he sat at dinner with them, or in his home over a friendly cigar. And a lot of those people whose friendship he won, but never knew about, are coming now to pay their last respects."

Mrs. Dever meets all who come. She does not weep as she takes their hands but the sorrow is upon her. She has received many messages of condolence.

Tribe From Former Colleague.
"Judge Dever was the character of man who, the longer one knew him the more one loved and admired him," said a message from Judge Jesse Holden of the Illinois Appellate court, for years a colleague of Mr. Dever.
"He lived and exerted himself for the people he so faithfully and disinter-estedly served."

"I am sorrowing with you," was the message that came from Col. A. A.
Briggs, also of the Dever cabinet.

Weekday Pays Tribute.
Charles H. Wacker said: "I have always been an admirer of Mr. Dever's many accomplishments and fine traits.
I shall always be grateful for the invaluable aid he gave me in my capacity as chairman of the Chicago Plan commission. Chicago has lost a splendid citizen."

All his meeting in the assembly room of the county board, the Democratic Cook county central committee last night unanimously adopted resolutions commemorating the former mayor's service to the city and to the party. They dwell particularly upon his "honesty of purpose, sincerity of service and loyalty."

judges and other public men was named as honorary pallbearers.

SCIENTIST TELLS OF A WAR TOXIN TO KILL MILLIONS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, Sept. 4.—Terrifying results of a new secret deadly poison, a product of "a certain bacillus," so powerful that a tiny amount will hurl swift death to a million people, was visioned today by Prof. Leonard Hill, great British scientist. Prof. Hill, in delivering a presidential address before the sanitary inspectors' association at Lowestoft, declined to disclose the name of this new death dealing monster.

"I would call your attention to certain bacillus, which shall be nameless, but easily cultivated," the scientist said. "If man is susceptible as guinea pigs to the toxin produced by this bacillus it appears that one vial or a salt spoonful of dry toxin would kill a million people. The toxin acts, if inhaled or if it falls on the eye, as a poison."

The professor then pointed to the moral: "If men set out to prepare such toxin and scatter it by airplane what would be the use of the panoply of war? Is it not time then to end the waste of money on preparations for war and to apply the money saved to preventing disease?"

"People around the seminary seem to think I should remain in the ministry after all my preparation and ten years service," he said. "I got a lot of experience living like a bum in the Bowery, and I'm not afraid of work.
However, I may return to the pulpit."

The Rev. William Irvine Blair, who resigned his pastorate at the Grace Presbyterian church, Milwaukee, a few months ago to shove freight on New York docks, is in Chicago looking for a job.

The pastor, who used to hold boxing matches in his church for his men's club, thereby earning the title of a fighting minister, said yesterday at the Presbyterian Theological seminary where he is staying, that he has no idea just the kind of a job he'll get, but he plans to remain in Chicago.

"I can't go back to him," Mrs.
Ruspanini said. "He is willing but I am through running alcohol and being a bartender in his saloon for 14 hours a day. Besides he is living with another woman. All I got from him was beatings."

The judge allowed her $20 a week temporary alimony.

GIRL DEMANDS $250,000 FOR BROKEN ROMANCE

Cabaret Entertainer Sues Wealthy Heir.

Harry E. Stebbings, president of the West Woodworking company at 324 North Ada street, was yesterday named defendant in a $250,000 breach of promise suit, filed in the Superior court by Miss Jane McAllister, 24 years old, entertainer at the Club Algiers. The suite replaces a promise filed on Aug.
22 for the same amount, which was not accompanied by a jury demand.
A $100,000 promise of a suit for assault will be followed by a declaration, her attorney said.

Stebbing is the son of the late Charles Stebbings, Park Ridge millionaire, and lives at the Lake Shore Athletic club. He is married and the father of three children. On Jan. 10 his wife, Mrs. Edith Barrett Stebbings, filed a suit for divorce in the Superior court on charges of cruelty. The suit is pending before Judge Sabath. A previous suit, brought in 1927, was dismissed after a reconciliation. Stebbings is said to be the heir to a $500,000 estate.

"Whirlwind Courtship" Told.
Miss McAllister avers that she met Stebbing four years ago. She said he carried on a whirlwind courtship and made a proposal of marriage a few weeks later.

Miss McAllister declares that she accepted the proposal, but no date was set for a ceremony because Mr.
Stebbing's divorce had not been granted. It was two years later that the date was fixed for May 15, 1928.

The bill declares that the courtship was excessively romantic, in that frequent heated quarrels and bitter arguments were followed by touching reconciliations.

Jealous, Girl Testifies.
Miss McAllister charges that Stebbings was a jealous suitor. He is said to have employed private detectives to watch her movements, so that she could not entertain other gentlemen friends. He also called at her home without giving her notice to satisfy himself that she was true to him, according to her attorney. He is said to have persuaded her to give up her employment.

Late last year Stebbings told her that he would not marry her, she declares. When she tried to remonstrate with him he beat her and pulled her hair, she adds. Miss McAllister says she has many love letters protesting undying love to substantiate her bill.

"I can't go back to him," Mrs.
Ruspanini said. "He is willing but I am through running alcohol and being a bartender in his saloon for 14 hours a day. Besides he is living with another woman. All I got from him

PRINCESS CHAKIR IN RENO; DIVORCE ACTION EXPECTED

Reno, Nev., Sept. 4.—For the supposed purpose of establishing a residence here, preliminary to filing action for a divorce, Sidi Wirt Spreck-les Chakir, wife of Suid Bey Chakir, Turkish prince, has been in Reno since June 29. This was learned today, and it is presumed that she will file an action for divorce on Sept. 29.

Princess Chakir, generally supposed to have been divorced by the Turkish prince some time ago, may bring the divorce action, it is said, on grounds of desertion.

She was married to Suid Bey Chakir in Constantinople on June 30, 1923.

PILOT FALLS OUT OF PLANE; NOVICE LANDS IT SAFELY

Don't Know How I Did It,
He Declares Later.

Columbus, O., Sept. 4.—[Special.]— Norman Curtice of Cincinnati wanted a thrill when he took his first ride in an airplane.

Up 2,000 feet, the pilot, Capt. D. H.
Young, shouted "Hold tight." Then he started stunting.

He looped and he side-rolled, he nose-dived and he tail-slipped. Curtice got his thrills wholesale.

Pilot Tumbles Out.
The plane upside down, breasting along at 100 miles an hour, the pilot's safety belt broke and he tumbled out. Curtice could see Young plunge down and then the white puff of his parachute as it opened to float him to safety.

The plane with its passenger was running wild. It began flip-flops compared to which its previous stunts were as child's play.

Over and over it turned and then suddenly started to dive earthward.
Reaching over into the pilot's seat, Curtice grasped the control stick and maneuvered it about until the plane righted itself.

Looked for Landing Place.
"I don't know how I did it," said Curtice later. "I tried to remember everything I ever had seen or read about guiding an airplane and took hold of the stick. I looked around for the biggest place in which to land.
That was what I wanted most—THE BIGGEST LANDING PLACE IN
THE WORLD! About a mile away
I saw Port Columbus and managed to turn the ship around and bring it down at that field. They say I made a perfect landing. I won't try it again."

4 FLEE INDIANA JAIL; CHICAGO GANGSTER LEADS

Salm Riehm, youthful Chicago gangster who has a record for burglary, led a jail break from the county jail at South Bend, Ind., last night in which he and three other prisoners gained freedom. His companions were Bert Zimmerman, 27 years old, also of Chicago, and Jeff Harris and Mose Stephens, Negroes.

The getaway was contrived when Cecil McHenry, turnkey, entered the corridor of the jail with a tray of food.
The men rushed McHenry.

CHICAGO FLYERS FORCED DOWN; MOTOR FALTERS

Up 291 Hours; Miss New Record by 5 1/2 Days.

With all endurance records surpassed except that of the St. Louis Robin, the airplane "Chicago We Will," in which Pilots Russell Mosman and C. E. Steele were seeking a new landing championship, was forced to land at 2:33 p. m. yesterday. The plane had been in the air 291 hours and 2 minutes, 130 hours short of the record of 17 1/2 days established by the Robin.

A falling magnet and trouble with the lubrication of the Wright J-3 motor of their Stinson-Detroler monoplane were given by the pilots as the reasons for their forced landing. After they had brought their plane to the ground, they said that they had first noticed trouble with the motor three days ago, and although they did not notify the ground crew, they were afraid then that it would be impossible for the motor to continue operating long enough to break the record.

Repairs in Air Planned.

The forced landing was made while the ground crew, under Wilson Herren, flight manager, was making hasty preparations to go aloft to try to repair the magnet. At 2:33 p. m. the flyers had dropped a note saying they did not believe the motor would last through the night.

The refueling plane was being warmed up and Herren was writing a note to tell Mosman and Steele to keep going as long as possible. James Hayden, hose man on the refueling plane, had obtained a rope ladder in order to lower himself to the Chicago We Will to make the repairs.

The endurance plane meanwhile was circling over the airport as the pilots tried in vain to lift it higher into the air. It had fallen so low that it had difficulty in clearing a wire fence behind the hangar of Sky Harbor in order to make its landing on the field. The aeronautical rules require that endurance planes land on the same field from which they take off.

Pilots O. K., They Announce.

Mosman and Steele stepped from the plane declaring themselves in perfect physical condition, although both staggered a bit and Steele complained of difficulty in hearing. They said they were ready to undergo a physical examination to demonstrate their fitness.

The Chicago We Will took off from Sky Harbor at 11:31 a. m. on Friday, Aug. 23, after two previous attempted flights had ended abruptly because of engine trouble. The plane ran smoothly, the pilots said, until the first trouble was noted three days ago.

On Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, while Steele was piloting the plane at an altitude of 1,600 feet, the motor began to falter and the pilot struggled for an hour and a half to lift the ship 200 feet. When it had reached 1,800 feet at 2:30 the motor began to function smoothly again and by 11 o'clock the plane had climbed to 3,000 feet.

Another Attempt Promised.

Herren, who with sixteen other men, financed the flight, said that as soon as another motor could be installed in the plane it would be sent up again in quest of the record.

Don A. Hunter, pilot of the refueling plane, and Hayden, the hose man, will fly the ship to Paterson, N. J., today, where a new Wright Whirlwind motor will be installed, and will return it to Chicago as soon as the work is completed. Tentative plans are being made for a take off at Sky Harbor again on Saturday or Sunday.

The Chicago We Will made 73 contacts with the refueling plane during its 12 days in the air, the last one being made over the airport yesterday at 10:30 a. m. The pilots estimated that they had covered 20,870 miles during the flight and that the motor had consumed 3,450 gallons of gas and 101 gallons of oil.

100 PASSENGER PLANE JOINS IN WELCOME TO ZEP

Globe Girdler Rests in Home Hangar.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Sept. 4.—The Graf Zeppelin came home today from its globe circling to be greeted not only by thousands of Germans, but by a new rival of the air—the Dornier 100-passenger airplane, Dox.

A TRIBUNE representative, Geoffrey Frazer, succeeded in smuggling himself aboard the Dox when a party of fifty officials guests boarded the seaplane for a welcoming flight in honor of the Zeppelin.

The designer of the giant seaplane, Claude Dornier, when telephoning congratulations to the Zeppelin works, invited a group of officials to sample the flying qualities of his seaplane. The guests included U. S. Ambassador Schurman, Frederick von Prittwitz and Gaffron, German ambassador to Washington, the Spanish and Japanese ambassadors, three American naval officers, Lieut. J. M. Shoemaker, Lieut. Ronald G. Meyer, and Commander H. V. Wiley, who came to Europe on the Graf, a big group of German officials, and a Chicagoan, Dr. William M. Scholl, who was also a passenger on the airship.

The Dox, weighing 44 tons, took off from the water in the wonderful time of 22 seconds, rose to 200 meters and circled Lake Constance, Friedrichshafen, Mainau and Bergens for 20 minutes.

"This is a wonderful plane and gives an extraordinary impression of stability," Ambassador Schurman said. The American naval officers expressed unbounded admiration at the simplicity and perfection of the machinery.

The Graf Zeppelin returned to its home port at 5:53 this morning. It completed the most sensational flight

U. S., GERMAN FIRMS PLANNING DIRIGIBLE LINE ACROSS OCEAN

Akron, O., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Although no definite steps have been taken, the Goodyear-Zeppelin and German Zeppelin corporations intend to establish transoceanic dirigible lines. This announcement was made today at the conclusion of conferences between Dr. Hugo Eckener, builder of the Graf Zeppelin, and F. W. Litchfield, president of the Goodyear company.

Dr. Eckener said the two firms undoubtedly will join in forming Zeppelin lines. Litchfield, in a formal statement, said it will require from two to four years to place the lines in operation after the details have been worked out.

Litchfield also announced that Knut Eckener, son of the commander of the Graf Zeppelin, will join the Goodyear-Zeppelin staff here this fall.

In the history of aviation in which in a total of 25 days since Aug. 1 it has spanned a distance almost one and a half times the circumference of the globe.

On this last flight from Lakehurst, N. J., to Friedrichshafen, one of the hardest in the airship's history, its skipper, Capt. Ernst Lehmann, commanding the Zeppelin instead of Dr. Hugo Eckener, who remained behind in America on business, was forced to pick a path between thunderstorms and lightning. He made the trip in 47 hours 11 minutes and covered slightly more than 1,350 miles.

The German dirigible thus beat its own record flight round the world from Lakehurst to Lakehurst by fully 24 hours with its flight round the world from Friedrichshafen to Friedrichshafen in 30 days 4 hours and 13 minutes—must to the delight of Germany. This brings the Zeppelin's record since its maiden flight, less than a year ago to more than 1,000 flying hours with mileage sufficient to encompass the world two, and one-half times.

Chicagoan Tells of Trip.

"I am a hustler and proud of it," Dr. Scholl, the Chicago passenger said. "I flew to Lakehurst to catch the Zeppelin, and my plane smashed up. But then came that wonderful Zeppelin voyage, and you forgot everything else. I cannot begin to describe the majesty of it."

"Capt. Lehmann seemed to know just every spot where we were brewing. We sure had enough storms around us; but he piloted us with detours and we never had a minute's jolting or discomfort all the way. It was perfect."

"I'll top off my Zep voyage with extensive flights all over the continent. "I intend to sail back to America on the 14th of this month. I believe that will be the quickest and most extensive business trip ever accomplished."

Smoker Imperils Airship.

Frederick Hogg, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., was less pleased. He was the center of a storm aboard the Zeppelin and when he landed none of the other passengers, not even his countrymen, were on speaking terms with him. In fact some of the latter were rather determined to administer some severe punishment to him.

"Babbit" was the mildest epithet the passengers applied to Mr. Hogg. And worse ones were used by passengers when describing the scene with him when he was caught smoking although he was aware that in so doing he endangered the lives of the 63 persons aboard the dirigible, with its highly inflammable balloons of hydrogen gas.

Capt. Lehmann was forced to interfere to protect Mr. Hogg after the American had been found smoking secretly and appeared proud of it. "You fellows are fools not to do as you please on this ship."

CLEW FOUND TO IDENTIFY WOMAN SEWED IN SACK

Chicagoan Thinks Body May Be His Wife.

A partial identification of the body of a woman found in a sack near Morris, Ill., last Monday was made by Richard Shea, who has been identified as the husband of the woman, so the sheriff told Shea. Shea said the body might be that of his wife, Lily, 45 years old, who left him three months ago.

Harry Jones of Morris received a letter from Shea yesterday describing his missing wife. The description tallied with that of the dead woman, so the sheriff told Shea. Shea said his wife had dark hair, gray at the temples, gold covered teeth and was about five feet, three inches in height.

Right He His Wife.
After looking at the body Shea said he thought it might be that of his wife. But he could offer no information as to how the nude body might have been crammed into a burlap bag after apparently having been kept in a cold place for several weeks and then tossed into a ditch near Morris.

Shea said his wife's teeth had been treated by a Washington, D. C., dentist and a chart of the dead woman's teeth was sent to the dentist for comparison.

His wife left him suddenly after a quarrel, Shea declared. He had been married about a year. Her home is in Kansas City, he said.

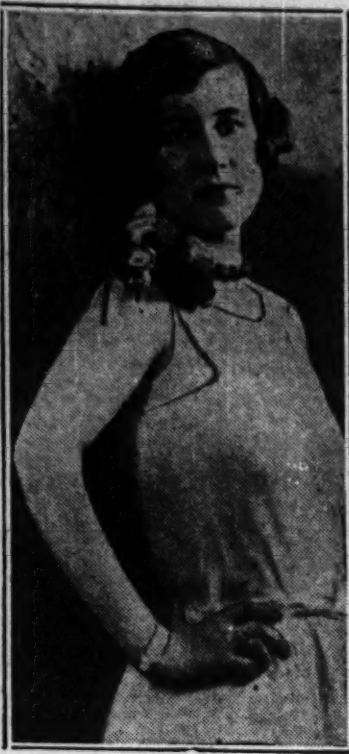

Shea's occupation was given at his office as national organizer of the B. C. Hat Extremity company, with headquarters at Alton, Ill.

Car Seen at Scene.
Two Morris boys, Joe Schock and "Gooey" Hutchinson, told the sheriff yesterday that when returning from Streator, Ill., last Sunday they noticed a sedan parked on the road near where the body was later discovered. The motorists appeared to be having motor trouble and the boys volunteered to help. This was brusquely refused.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Jewels and clothing valued at between $150,000 and $200,000 were stolen from the home of T. J. Pendergast, Democratic leader, here last night. The thief worked so quietly he was not heard by four children playing in the basement and a maid asleep on the third floor.

Part of the loot was the trousseau and wedding gifts of Miss Marceline Pendergast, valued at $50,000. She lost her $4,000 engagement ring.

TWO SCHNEIDER CUP RACE PILOTS DAMAGE PLANES

CALSHOT, England, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Two pilots, one British and the other Italian, had narrow escapes from disaster late today while training for the Schneider cup speed contest on Friday and Saturday.

Flying Officer Waghorn, descending from a test flight in his supermarine monoplane, struck a glancing blow on the side of a tugboat, buckling the tip of the port wing. The airplane was rushed to the hangar, where repairs were immediately started in the hope that the speed plane would be made ready to participate in the contest.

Lieut. Giovanni Monti, one of the crack flyers of the Italian team, was caught in the wash from the liner Majestic while trying to take up a new Macchi 47 on its first flight. One of the main bracing wires snapped and its end slapped the fuselage six inches from the face of the pilot.

BRIDE REFUSED DIVORCE; JUDGE ASSAILS LAWS

Doubts Girl's Story of Honeymoon Cruelty.

Mary Lange, a 19 year old bride, was denied a divorce yesterday by Circuit Judge Feinberg from her husband, Edward Lange, a steel salesman, whom she charged with cruelty after less than a month of married life. Assailing the laxity of Cook county divorce proceedings, the judge ordered her bill impounded for two years to prevent her from bringing a similar action before another judge.

Mrs. Lange testified that she was married March 15, 1928, and left her husband on May 10. She charged that Lange struck her with an ash tray, a book and other household articles. The cruelty began shortly after their marriage, she said.

Believes It Conspiracy.
"This sounds very suspicious to me," Judge Feinberg declared. "Divorces are too easily obtained in Cook county and I'm not going to lend myself to what is apparently a conspiracy. It does not seem possible that any man would so treat a young and charming bride whom he must have loved ardently."

"Furthermore, you are too young to get a divorce. You are a mere child and yet welcome the odium, which even in this advanced age, is fitted on a divorce. You would readily assume the role of an experienced woman, a role that divorce offers."

Mrs. Lange protested, through sobs and tears, that she could produce witnesses to substantiate her charges. She said that she had friends who could testify to the bruises she received.

"An artistic use of rouge would produce dozens of such bruises if you desired to fabricate such evidence," continued the judge. "The testimony of such witnesses would be nothing more than hearsay. You have already admitted that there were no eyewitnesses to the alleged cruelty. If the rules of evidence were more zealously applied to divorce cases, half the decrees wouldn't be granted."

Gives Her Time to Think.
"I shall see that you do not get a decree. If I signed such an order you would plunge into another marriage within six months and wind up in the divorce court again. I will check a career of divorce gathering and you will thank me some day. I will give you two years to think this over, and

Aviation Notes

Judge K. M. Landis, czar of American big league baseball, left Boston yesterday afternoon on a hurry up journey by air and rail to Louisville, Ky. Judge Landis was obliged to be in Boston yesterday and in Louisville today, when the finals of the national American Legion junior baseball league championship will be decided. He flew from Boston to New York last evening in two hours. At Newark airport he boarded a train and traveled to Columbus where, at 7:55 this morning, he was to catch the regular T. A. T. plane to Indianapolis and from there will be flown to Louisville by the Curtiss Flying Service.

Purchase of a thirty acre tract at Long Beach, Cal., for the erection of a large airplane factory was announced yesterday by the Detroit Aircraft corporation. When the new plant is completed the activities of the Lockheed division of the corporation will be centered there.

Five flying boats of the five-passenger type to be used in the projected Seattle to Alaska line of the Boeing system have been started in the Boeing plant at Seattle.

If you still want a decree at the end of that period I will grant it."

The judge ordered her bill impounded for that period over the protest of her attorney, Harold W. Hertz. She left the courtroom crying, and refused to give her address.

FINED $200 FOR BEATING WIFE.

The standard of quality in food as served at the table

Between the times when foods are shipped from their places of origin and the times at which they are served at tables they are subject to many possible adverse conditions, and a heavy percentage of depreciation or spoilage is the result.

The public is fairly well, although not entirely, protected against absolute spoilage, but as to the various other degrees of deterioration in foods, some of them involving grave consequences in their influences upon health, the main dependence of the consumer is in the intelligence, skill and conscience of the person or persons responsible for the preparation and service.

As evidence of the alert, keen appreciation of these things upon the part of the Henrici organization note when you come to breakfast, luncheon, dinner or late supper today the quality of all the foods served at your own and nearby tables as manifested by their very appearance.

So unmistakably choice are all Henrici foods that sight alone is sufficient to convince any intelligent judge of foods.

Really, you would greatly enjoy a Henrici meal today, and you may be fully assured that in no restaurant in all the world are foods obtainable that are more wholesome or more delicious. Why not Henrici's today?

ALDERMEN PASS LAKE FRONT BILL OVER PROTESTS

Revised Measure Unread, Massen Declares.

Amendments to the lake front ordinance, which have been pending in the city hall since May, were approved by the council yesterday by a 15 to 4 vote under circumstances considered by several aldermen to be unusual. The committee's recommendation will go to the city council for approval at the Sept. 11 meeting.

The minority aldermen waged a bitter fight against approval of the ordinance yesterday on the ground that the amendments are in an unfinished state. They argued that the committee should not vote on something that does not exist and pointed out that Attorney Walter L. Fisher has been asked to clarify alleged obscure language in the amendments and to draft a new clause which will prohibit the erection of larger structures over the Illinois Central tracks north of Randolph street than those permitted elsewhere in the downtown district.

Thompson Men Pass Measures. Brushing aside these objections, the Thompson aldermen, led by Oscar P. Nelson (46th) and Louis Anderson (2d), rushed to the support of the amendments and passed them. They explained that the amendments will be published at the council meeting and any changes necessitated by Attorney Fisher's report can be made before the amendments are called up for final passage.

Attorney Fisher was instructed to make a general study of the ordinance and to submit his comments and suggestions. Those, together with any amendments suggested by Mr. Fisher, are to be considered by the committee at a special session, according to a motion adopted.

The final vote on the amendments was as follows:

FOR.
Anderson (2d), Rosenwald (33d), Jackson (34d), Self (35th), Conner (44th), Massen (45th), Eaton (46th), Nelson (46th), Northrup (19th), Hoellen (47th), Oyak (12th), Douglas (1st), Thomas (23d), Bowler (25th), Marpole (28th).

AGAINST.
Nance (7th), Leach (44th), Albert (42d), Massen (45th).

Before the vote was taken Ald. Massen pointed out that none of the committee has had time to read the revised draft of the amendments placed Sept. 3. He declared he would not vote for something he had not read. Ald. Albert sided with Massen and launched into an attack against Corporation Counsel Ettelson.

Albert Slaps at Ettelson. "I have no confidence in Mr. Ettelson," Albert declared, "and I will not vote for these amendments until we have received the report of Mr. Fisher."

"The Illinois Central employed the law firm of Schuyler & Weinfeld of which Ettelson is a former partner. During the Dyer administration Ettelson went back to that firm and the tie provided by human elements remains there. I want the advice of a competent attorney and I am no reason for closing the doors now. The committee still has time to approve these amendments after we receive Fisher's report."

Two other major objections were raised by the dissenting aldermen. They pointed to the lack of restrictions on the height of buildings in the area bounded by Michigan, the river, the proposed outer drive, and the Randolph street viaduct, and condemned the elimination of a provision for depression of the Illinois Central suburban tracks in 71st street and Exchange avenue.

Massen Starts Criticism. Ald. Massen precipitated the first dispute in the committee with the declaration that the ordinance placed no limit on the height of buildings that may be erected over the tracks. He said that under the law the volume of the lower setback on a building may be one-sixth of the volume of the main portion of the structure. With a large area to develop the Illinois Central, he said, could erect a structure of such great volume that the tower could rise to an unprecedented height for Chicago.

"The council has been charged with permitting special privilege in the Cuneo tower affair," declared Ald. Massen. "In these amendments we may legalize towers much higher than the one proposed by Cuneo. If we don't control the size of the blocks in this new area we cannot control the size of the buildings. The Illinois Central doesn't have to provide alley or cross streets which would cut down the area for individual buildings. Is that fair to the loop, where the size of the blocks is already determined?"

Nelson Amendment Adopted. An amendment which would limit the blocks to a length of 600 feet, proposed by Ald. Nelson, was adopted.

JURY FAILS TO SOLVE SHOTGUN KILLING OF GIRL ON FARM

The mystery of the death of 13-year-old Esther Groth, who was shot to death at her farm home near Manhattan last Saturday, was no nearer solution yesterday after a seven-hour jury had completed its investigation. The jury returned a verdict that the girl had been "slain by persons unknown." County officials continued their investigation, but still were without a definite clue to the slayer. Although the shotgun of the girl's father, William Groth, was found and appeared to have been cleaned recently, it was loaded and no empty shells were found in the house. Clarence, 16-year-old brother of the slain girl, who said he ran into the house from the barn when he heard a shot and found his sister dying, with her left arm shot off, denied that either he or the other children in the family had touched the gun.

Adopted by Ald. Nelson, was adopted by the committee. Ald. Massen, however, declared that this would not cover the situation. The Illinois Central, he said, might not divide the area into blocks. He stated that unless the building height is controlled the most skyscrapers of the loop and near north side would be obsolete within ten years.

At the conclusion of the meeting Ald. E. J. Kasold (34th), chairman of the committee, wrote a letter to Attorney Fisher asking him to draft an amendment which would limit any area used for building purposes to 600 feet in length. This, it was believed, would clear up the tangled and bring new buildings over the tracks into line with the regulations governing loop buildings. Because of the long arguments Ald. Kasold was unable to present his plan for expediting construction of rail terminals.

Shift Track Sinking Problem. The matter of depressing the Illinois Central suburban tracks, which has been a storm center in the committee for several weeks, was referred to the council track elevation committee.

In a communication to the committee, F. L. Thompson, vice president of the railroad, agreed to the expenditure of approximately $2,500,000 of the estimated $10,000,000 cost of the project, providing the property owners would assume the remainder of the expense. He said the railroad has spent millions on electrification and to bear the entire cost of sinking the tracks would amount to confiscation.

Ald. Nance, in whose ward the tracks are located, denied the railroad's proposal and urged the committee to eliminate accidents along the right-of-way by including the depression in the lake front amendments. His proposition lost by a 13 to 6 vote. The four aldermen who voted against passing all the amendments voted for the track depression and were joined by Aldermen Eaton and Northrup.

Exemption of the Illinois Central from paying special assessments on the original construction of the proposed extension of Wacker drive and their new streets that might be opened in the lake front area was attacked by Ald. Massen. He said that surrounding territory might be taxed for these improvements but not the proposed buildings that would benefit. An opinion on this point was asked from Mr. Fisher by the committee. Henry W. Lee, a consulting engineer, advised the committee that the Illinois Central holds the land in question illegally. He declared that the railroad's property north of Randolph street is an encroachment on submerged lands that belong to the state. The city, he said, could obtain the property by approving a harbor plan which would include the disputed area. "When the lake was filled in beyond the original shore line it was an act of trespass," said Mr. Lee. "The title of the land remains with the state despite the passage of the years."

HOLY LAND CALM AS JEWS MOURN FOR RIOT DEAD

Jerusalem Shops Reopen;
Arabs Work for Peace.

JERUSALEM, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Palestine continued calm today despite the attempts of agitators to stir the masses. In Jerusalem the Jewish shops and even the Jaffa road were open. Jews observed the day as a fast day and crowded the synagogues for services of mourning for the riot dead.

Jews who hitherto have been concentrated at various points for protection have now returned to work leaving only their women and children under police protection.

Coming to the small number of Jewish police officers, inquiry into the disturbances is being conducted in many places by Arab officials. In view of this situation the Zionist executive has demanded the government intrust this inquiry to British executives.

Hebron Arabs Express Regret.
A deputation of Arabs from Hebron, where 45 Jews, including 15 Americans, were massacred on Aug. 25, today expressed to the director of the Zionist Anglo-Palestine company regret for the trouble which occurred there.

Blame was placed on the governor of Hebron for not interfering after the first murder which occurred on the eve of the massacre. The mob interpreted his attitude as encouragement of lawlessness.
When Hebron Arabs brought vegetables and cattle to the Jerusalem market as usual yesterday Jews steadfastly refused to buy the products. Prices dropped rapidly and the Arabs were compelled to sell to Jerusalem Arabs at very low rates or take their goods home.

British Fight Band of Bedouins.
The correspondent of the Jewish Telegraphic agency reported today that British troops were engaged in a fierce fight last night near Gaza with a Bedouin tribe. Several of the Bedouins were killed or wounded. Bedouins yesterday raided the herds of the Jewish settlement of Meehika in Galilee. The troops intervened promptly, returning the loot.

Skirmishes between the British troops and Arabs continued in northern Palestine. The Jewish settlement Kfar Tabor was attacked and the cattle driven off by the raiders. The American consul here, Paul Kharoshne, announced that the American Jewish students at the Haifa High school, the Reahshule, who have been on a bicycle tour in northern Palestine, have all been returned safely to Haifa from Metulla where they were in danger.

Baggage Searched

(Associated Press Photo.)

New York, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The baggage of Hope Hampton, former motion picture star, and her husband, Jules Brulatour, which was held up on their return from Europe yesterday on the Ile de France, revealed nothing that they had not declared—not even after a four-hour search by special agents—customs officials announced today.

The agents refused to comment on a rumor that they had acted on a tip in giving the baggage an exceptionally thorough search. "I'd give $10,000 to know who wrote that letter," Brulatour was said to have remarked while he and his wife were watching their trunks being ransacked on the pier.

NO CLEW FOUND IN $22,000 THEFT FROM MAIL CAR

No clew has been found to account for the alleged theft of $22,000 in currency from a locked mail pouch between Christopher and Royalton, Ill., last week, it was said by postal inspectors here yesterday.

"We have no reason to suspect any of the several persons who had access to the pouch during its journey to Royalton," said one inspector. "The money was transferred to a larger pouch at Christopher and this larger pouch was locked upon arrival at Royalton, but the money was gone." The money represented payroll funds of the Franklin County Coal company.

TAILORED FIFTY

Is The Only Pedigreed Fifty-Dollar
Suit In Chicago

By pedigree we mean clothes with ideals, traditions, a warranty and an illustrious name back of them. Clothes that you buy with confidence and wear with pride. Clothes that make others say spontaneously, "Yes, I know. There isn't anything finer ready-to-wear." Our Stein-Bloch TAILORED FIFTY is not a by-product made merely to hitch to a fifty-dollar price. It is needled by the fine old English hand method in the Stein-Bloch Shops at Rochester with the determination that it must uphold the undeviating Stein-Bloch standard. When you buy the Stein-Bloch TAILORED FIFTY you have something choice; something individual; something lasting and worth wearing far beyond the price. You get more than just a suit for fifty dollars. You get a pedigreed suit, hand-tailored by Messrs. Stein-Bloch, internationally renowned.

BACK $3,420,000 BONDS TO MAKE CROSSINGS SAFE

2 Commerce Association Committees Act.

BY HAL FOUST.

The city traffic and grade separation committees of the Chicago Association of Commerce yesterday indicated a proposal for $3,420,000 county bond issue referendum in November for the construction of grade separations.

The proposal was originally made by a citizens' advisory commission headed by Elmer Stevens. Mr. Stevens' report, made public a month ago, recommended thirty-eight grade separations and three traffic circles. The county's share of the cost was estimated at $3,420,000 and the state's at $1,140,000.

The Association of Commerce in endorsement of the Stevens plan does not become official until the executive committee acts. This will probably take place at a meeting scheduled for tomorrow.

Sees Ordinance Passage.

Francis Boutell, chairman of the county board's subcommittee on grade separations, said he expected the commissioners to pass an ordinance next week calling the bond election.

The grade separations are planned to reduce the number of accidents and to increase the speed and volume of traffic on arterial highways in the metropolitan area. To work toward this end, a meeting of traffic experts, representing the city, the county and several civic organizations has been called for tomorrow noon to improve regulation of traffic on the four lane rural pavements under their present physical conditions.

Commissioner Boutell proposes that the county adopt a rule compelling slow moving vehicles to keep in the outer lanes on the country highways. He believes the county highway police has authority to enforce such a regulation under the provision of the motor vehicle law that no car shall be operated "in a manner which is dangerous to life and limb."

Assails Slow Drivers.

"There is no practice on the highways today that is more dangerous than loading an automobile in the middle of a wide road," said the commissioner. "Most of the accidents on the straight of way stretches are due to machines being forced to cut around the slow, inconsiderate drivers."

To clear the center lanes for express traffic, it is proposed to adopt a county ordinance requiring all automobiles to remain in the outer lanes except when passing another vehicle. Such regulations in Delaware and in Minnesota, according to Commissioner Boutell, have had the result of keeping the inner lanes free for the use of those machines that are continuously passing other cars.

The south park board has adopted an ordinance requiring slow moving traffic to keep to the right curb, but it is not enforced. Mr. Boutell believes the plan will work better on the country roads than on the boulevards, where there are many cars making turns at intersections.

Signs to Direct Autoists.

The county is planning to erect signs on the highways, directing drivers to keep to the right. The county's motorcycle police would patrol the roads, educating the motorists. If a driver should refuse to obey after receiving directions from the police, there would be a prosecution on the theory that the motorist was operating his car in such a way as to endanger life and property.

The automobiles that now loaf in the middle of the wide pavements force overtaking vehicles either to pass on the right or to turn into the lane for oncoming traffic. Either is dangerous. Passing to the right is in violation of section 46 of the motor vehicle act, which reads:

"Any such person so operating a

8 MONTHS' VEHICLE TAX COLLECTIONS EXCEED 1928 TOTAL

Vehicle tax collections for the first eight months of 1929 exceeded by $45,645 the amount taken in during the twelve months of 1928. City Collector Eller announced yesterday. The two collections, respectively, were $5,072,039 and $4,616,394.

The comparison figures on the number of vehicles and their classifications for which tags were issued during the two periods are as follows:

Vehicle	1928	1929
One horse	8,997	9,979
Two horse	2,179	2,575
Three horse	20	30
Motorcycle	977	958
Passenger automobiles, 35 horsepower or less	289,790	303,899
Passenger automobiles, more than 35 h. p.	16,117	8,099
Delivery trucks, one ton or less	56,146	35,090
Trucks over one ton capacity	19,572	13,745
Demonstrations	2,773	1,613
Transfers	2,795	3,549

The fact that only 45,645 trucks have obtained license tags, when the number of trucks operating on the streets is estimated at more than 100,000, has aroused the ire of Ald. John S. Clark (19th). He declared that a drive will be started to collect the tag fees.

motor vehicle . . . shall, on overtaking any such . . . or other vehicle, pass on the left side thereof, and the rider or driver of such . . . other vehicle shall, as soon as practicable, upon signal, turn to the right of the outer of the beaten track of such highway so as to enable free passage on the left."

The courts have held that drivers of cars passing on the right are responsible for any resulting accident. The most quoted precedent on this question of liability is the recently decided case of Laidock vs. the City of Chicago, where the court commented that passing on the right was "negligent driving of the car, because it was in violation of the method prescribed by the statute."

According to Joseph H. Braun, general counsel for the Chicago Motor club, the Illinois Supreme court has not expressed itself directly on the question of what constitutes contributory negligence on the part of the slow driver in a collision with a car passing him on the right. Mr. Braun added, however, that lower courts have taken the position that a slow driver who causes an accident by suddenly turning from the inside to the outside lane is not obligated to look behind to see if a machine from the rear is trying to pass on the right, since he shouldn't be required to anticipate a violation of the motor vehicle act.

LOOP NO PARKING LAW IS VIOLATED NEAR CITY HALL

Cars of Officials, Friends Block La Salle Street.

Chicago's loop no-parking ordinance was shown yesterday to be inoperative insofar as it applies to certain officials, politicians, friends of politicians and other members of the "I Gotta Drag Club," who choose to park their automobiles near the city hall and county building.

At 1:40 p. m. yesterday, six passenger cars were parked along the east side of La Salle street between Randolph and Washington streets. At though a mounted policeman patrolled the thoroughfare, each of the six cars was there at 3 o'clock, twenty minutes later. The no-parking ordinance provides that an automobile may stop at a curb no longer than three minutes.

Swanson's Car There.

State's Attorney Swanson's car, a big sedan bearing license number 246-251, was one of those parked in the city hall "special privilege" lane.

Another, which violated the ordinance, carried license number 405-137, issued to John J. Brown, in the advertising business at 19 South La Salle street. Mr. Brown explained that the car was driven during the afternoon by his son, James A. Brown, an assistant state's attorney.

License number checkups showed the owners of the other parked cars to be Dr. Samuel S. Epstein, 409 South Central avenue, a former deputy coroner; Elkan Berger, attorney, 1440 East 55th street; and Capt. James Rolson, 1416 North Kedzie avenue, owner of the tug, Carter H. Harrison. A small car used by the city division of water safety control completed the list.

The Usual Thing.

Observers stated that the parking situation around the city hall yesterday was not unusual. Two or more machines stand on the east side of La Salle street all the time, they said, while frequently the entire block is filled.

One or two automobiles, it was pointed out, prevent the use of an inside traffic lane as effectively as a dozen. La Salle street, alongside the city hall, recently has been widened to 120 feet. Non-enforcement of the no-parking ordinance means that the extra width afforded by the improvement for traffic purposes is used instead for the storage of privileged cars.

Ammonia Fumes Drive 12 Families Into Street

Twelve families living on the top floor of a three story apartment building at 1541 South Avera avenue rushed to the street last night when one of the tenants smelled fumes escaping from a refrigerator in her apartment. Firemen shut off the refrigerator system and tenants returned to their apartments. The leak developed in the refrigerator in the flat of Mrs. Solomon B. Graff, who warned her neighbors when she detected the odor of ammonia which had been mixed with the refrigerator.

ASKS PLACE FOR SUPER HIGHWAY BONDS ON BALLOT

Application to place the $20,000,000 west side superhighway bond issue on the ballot for the Nov. 8 election was filed yesterday with the election board in the office of County Judge Jarecki. The ordinance was filed by President Robertson of the west park board in compliance with the law requiring that it be filed at least sixty days before the election. The ordinance sets forth the route of the superhighway along the Chicago and Northwestern railroad for a distance of seven miles, and details its construction. The improvement will cost $22,800,000. The additional $2,800,000, not covered by the bond issue, is to be paid from the county's share of the state gas tax. President Cornak of the county board appeared with President Robertson and said that he is awaiting a legal opinion before signing the appropriation voted by the county board.

NEW YORK FEELS DRY LAW RIGOR OF DIXIE JUDGE

Former Counsel for the Anti-Saloon League.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
New York, Sept. 4.—[Special.]—The city is undergoing its annual entertainment of dry federal judges from all-over the land. A couple of visiting jurists from the south came, dressed in black robes, sat a while and went away. There hardly was a ripple in any of New York's 33,000 saloons and bars. It seemed to be a quiet summer until Judge Halsey L. Ritter dropped in from Florida to give Judge Marcus B. Campbell of Brooklyn a vacation. The white haired former Anti-Saloon League counsel—he once worked for that organization in Denver—immediately let it be known he believed in inflicting the maximum punishment on dry law offenders. Today he swung into action. That is, as much action as four liberal minded Brooklyn juries would permit.

$500 Fine on Speakeasy Man.
The cases tried before Judge Ritter today were the common, or cellar variety, nuisance cases, the sort that ordinarily are settled by bargaining or thrown into the discard. The gentleman from Miami and points thereabouts had slapped a $500 fine on a speakeasy man yesterday and consequently was greeted with respect by lawyers when he came down this morning. The first case brought a verdict of not guilty. The second was a no decision affair. The third was thrown out by Judge Ritter himself when the young federal prosecutor could not link the frightened defendant to a couple of poisonous looking bottles of booze. The judge approached what might be termed a dignified state of indignation because the government could not produce a better case against a man it had arrested as a dry law violator.

Excuse Fails to Convince.
The fourth offender was a portly, red-faced gentleman who had been found with a great deal too much home brew in his home, or what the law sometimes refers to as a "man's castle." Julius Waldron, the defendant, and Mrs. Julius Waldron explained at length that the liquids were for private consumption over the Jewish holidays. Mr. Waldron was convicted of possession and Judge Ritter slapped the maximum $500 fine on him and called it a day. The Florida judge appeared surprised when asked after court if he had not been a bit severe. "Maximum sentences were made to be applied," he remarked. "To me a speakeasy is just a saloon. Saloons are against the law. The duty of the bench is to administer the law and, when properly administered, the violators are properly punished."

Ex-Counsel of Dry League.

"Were you ever connected with the Anti-Saloon League?" Judge Ritter was asked. "Yes," he replied, after a moment's hesitation, "I was at one time counsel for the Colorado state Anti-Saloon League. I drew the league's local opinion bill and defended it in the courts when its validity was fought. I believe that was back in 1903." Having observed Judge Ritter in action in Florida at the trial of Congressman M. A. Michelson of Chicago when that gentleman was acquitted of being the possessor of a leaky trunk the writer can say that New York has no way repressed the southern jurist.

No judge has a right to administer light sentences just because of public opinion," Judge Ritter declared. "There should be no sliding scale of justice. The prohibition laws should be enforced and sentences meted out alike in every section of the country. It would be interesting, I believe, to find out the exact percentage of convictions in liquor cases in New York."

Judge is an Optimist.

Judge Ritter optimistically believes "the people are coming around to a point where they will have real respect for the prohibition law," but he admits little progress has been made in his home state of Florida. "Yes, I send bootleggers to the penitentiary when convicted under the Jones law," he said. "I have had a number of such sentences to administer in Florida."

He was asked if it had affected the liquor industry in Florida. "Not one bit," the judge replied. "There always will be drinking and getting at the source of supply is a difficult task. But I have 40,000 bottles of liquor down there waiting for the incinerator."

GRAVEL SCOOP KILLS MAN.

Morris, Ill., Sept. 4.—(AP)—S. E. Lester, 35, Atwood, Ill., was instantly killed today when a gravel lifting scoop fell on him.

EX-GRID STAR'S TACKLE IN LOOP DOWNS HIS MAN

The football tactics which Harold Lederer, 24 years old, learned during his three years on the Loyola university football team, yesterday ended a two years' search for a man whom his father accused of swindling him of $3,000. But before the football tactics were fully explained, Lederer had caused a traffic jam at Clark and Randolph streets and the arrest of himself and his brother-in-law, Samuel Terman, 3520 Sheridan road.

Lederer's father, Rudolph, president of the General Bond and Mortgage company, who lives at 426 Briar place, met the alleged swindler, Samuel Terman, 42 years old, two years ago on board a ship returning from Europe. The elder Lederer and Seaman became friendly and Seaman came to Chicago with him. He represented himself as a fur importer and the owner of a fox ranch in Canada, according to Lederer.

$500 Fur a Wedding Gift.

When Lederer's daughter was married, Seaman presented her with a $500 silver fox fur as a wedding present, and in turn Lederer invested $3,000 in Seaman's fox ranch, according to Lederer's story. Seaman then left Chicago and the Lederers heard no more of him.

Yesterday Terman met Seaman near the Sherman hotel. He called his father-in-law, and Lederer sent his son, Harold, to the detective bureau. Young Lederer told his story to Lieut. Thomas McFarland, who gave him his card and instructed him to look for Seaman. The ex-football player was to capture Seaman, call a policeman and show him the lieutenant's card, which would make everything all right.

Lederer Gets His Man.

Lederer and Terman waited in the vicinity of the Sherman hotel, and after a few minutes spied Seaman across the street. Lederer raced through the traffic, made a headlong leap and brought his man to the sidewalk with a perfect flying tackle. He applied a headlock to his captive, while Terman dashed to the corner for the traffic policeman.

The policeman, seeing Seaman getting the worst of the struggle, proceeded to pummel Lederer, while Lederer pummeled Seaman. The fight ceased when Lieut. McFarland's card was produced. But the policeman decided to send the combatants to the detective bureau and let the lieutenant settle it. The lieutenant did. He released Lederer and Terman and jailed Seaman.

Enlarge your present home or make your new house more spacious by Using Bryant Gas Heating

As modern life broadens and becomes richer in its variety of interests, many a family finds that its once ample home is cramped and under-sized. Downstairs, in the basement, however, there is almost always unused space which, properly handled, will meet the changed conditions.

"Properly handled" means a change to the right heating plant and then a transformation of the basement.

The right heating plant is one which generates no soot, dirt, ashes, grimy vapors or odors; needs no refuse or fuel storage-space; is noiseless; requires the irreducible minimum of human attention; harmonizes unobtrusively with whatever decorative treatment is given the room in which it is installed and so can be left exposed to view, without screening or partitions.

New homes are built with "livable basements." Old residences can be modernized, too, so that the basement is no longer a place barred to guests and avoided by the family. The answer is Bryant Heating.

The latest Bryant—Model

45—has an enclosed body of streamline design, with all controls and accessories concealed. The outer cabinet is of the handsome, crystalline finish so widely used on fine metal specialties. An instrument panel similar to that on your automobile groups at one point the few gauges which ever call for passing attention.

Twenty years past the experimental stage, a Bryant 45 will give the householder who has never enjoyed Bryant Heating the utterly dependable, trouble-free heat he has always dreamed about, never enjoyed.

No space needed for fuel or refuse storage. No soot. No manual or mechanical labor. A single match your winter's kindling. Furnace tending by the calendar—not by the clock. Absolutely even warmth at the temperature you select for day and night. No soot.

MOVE TO "SEE" PANTAGES JURY NIPPED IN BUD

"Approached" at Dinner, Guard Reports.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—A tentative jury of eight men and four women was selected late this afternoon to try Mrs. Alexander Pantages, wife of the millionaire theater man, for the motor car murder last June 16 of Joe Rokomoto, Japanese shopkeeper.

Early this evening Superior Court Bailiff Charles Bryant informed Judge Carlos Hardy, who is trying the case, that an apparent attempt had been made to approach the tentative jury panel. As a result guards were assigned to stay with the jurors at all times.

Bryant said that the jurors had been taken to dinner in a downtown hotel when a succession of phone calls and mysterious incidents occurred which acted to separate him and another court officer from the jury.

Witness Also Approached.
The district attorney's office personally has reported three efforts to interfere with witnesses.

Prosecutor James P. Costello, in questioning the prospective jurors to-day, alluded to these reputed attempts to "fix" persons in the case.

That Rokomoto met his fatal injuries because he was lax in making a traffic signal developed as the probable chief line of Mrs. Pantages' defense.

Her attorneys, W. I. Gilbert of Los Angeles, Max Steuer of New York, and Joseph Ford of Los Angeles, phrased their questions to prospective jurors so as to induce them to say that they thought "all laws ought to be enforced, even laws demanding left hand traffic signals at a boulevard stop."

Lifted Into Focal Point.

The matter of just where and when Rokomoto put out his hand to signal that his little touring car, laden with seven people, was prepared to turn a Hollywood street corner last June

BEGIN NATION-WIDE HUNT FOR SURGEON WHO VANISHED HERE

A nation wide search was started last night for Dr. Frank M. Ende.

New York surgeon, who disappeared on Aug. 19 several hours after registering at the Hotel Le Salle and having conferred with officials of the American College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Dr. Ende was last seen by John W. Shaver, an editor, with whom he lunched in a tavern on North Michigan avenue, Shaver said that Dr. Ende had been working strenuously on research and complained of feeling ill when he finished his meal. Dr. Ende is a cousin of Florence Macbeth, the opera singer, and expressed a wish to visit Ravinia. Dr. Ende is married and has two small children, who reside in New York.

Dr. Ende is described as being about five feet seven in height, weight 140 pounds, dark complexion, with a small black mustache. During the war Dr. Ende was a major in the medical corps. At the time of his disappearance it is believed he wore a tuxedo suit and a Panama hat. After luncheon at the North Michigan avenue tearoom, Dr. Ende returned to his hotel and changed from a business suit into the tuxedo. The business suit was found in his room.

14, thus became the subject of major consequences in the trial. Mrs. Pantages' car, driving on the wrong side of the highway, crashed into the Jap's machine and killed him.

Mrs. Pantages sat in court flanked by her nurse on one side and her husband and counsel on the other, watching the developments with only an occasional sparkle of interest.

Stockholm Police Draw Sabers to Quell Strikers

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 4.—[U.P.]—

Sixteen persons were injured in a clash between police and striking omnibus workers early today. The police were forced to draw their sabers to quell the near-riot.

POLICE CAPTURE FUGITIVE; WOUND HIM IN BATTLE

CRIMINAL COURT.
Meyer Rogers, receiving stolen property, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Harry S. Miller.

William Westbrook, 42 years old, 4749 St. Lawrence avenue, was being held at the Wabash avenue police station last night with a bullet wound in his left leg, after he had been captured in a running gun battle with police at 47th street and Langley avenue yesterday.

Westbrook walked into the restaurant of Gus Kulandes at 658 East 47th street and took a run from behind the counter. When Kulandes remonstrated, Westbrook threatened to shoot him and left. The restaurant proprietor called the police and Sgt. Michael Hackett and his squad came upon Westbrook in an alley nearby. As the fugitive turned to fire, the squad began shooting, one of the bullets hitting him in the leg.

YOUTH ARRESTED AS ROBBER.
Albert Patriak, 16 years old, 4864 South Ave. avenue, who escaped from Oak Park police on Aug. 27 when his companion, Frank Nieperay, 16, of 3344 South Whipple street, was shot as they were fleeing from a drug store which they had robbed, was arrested last night in his home.

8 ROGERS PARK TAXPAYERS GIVEN CUTS BY BOARD

Eight Rogers Park taxpayers won reductions of reassessment tax bills when they prosecuted complaints before the board of assessors yesterday. Errors in computing valuation brought a substantial cut in each case.

Those who received adjustments are Nathan Zuckerman, 6535 North Ashland avenue; R. L. Thorach, 1955 Howard avenue; J. Mathias Schneyder, 7300 Ridge boulevard; J. J. Sladkey, 4424 St. Anthony court; Mrs. Alfred Nelson, 6648 Newgard avenue; Joseph Moos, 6550 North Maplewood avenue; Waldo W. Healy, 6485 Wayne avenue; and E. J. Bibo, 2054 Pratt avenue.

E. R. Wetmore, president of the Edgewater Golf club, lost an appeal for a reduction of the $1,551,000 valuation on club property. He declared the valuation would raise the club's tax from $17,000 to $25,000. Chairman Kruttschiff said that the estimate was conservative, as the property is worth $2,300,000 at subdivision prices. Less than 2 per cent of the 4,400 Rogers Park taxpayers who have visited the assessors' offices to compare old and new tax bills have filed complaints, Director Cutmore announced. Twenty-seven complaints were filed yesterday, bringing the total for the four days of hearings to seventy-five.

PARENTS LOSE 3 CHILDREN AS FAMILY SPLITS

Three children whose custody was contested by their parents, Frank and Beatrice Klatt, 6108 West 55th street, yesterday were ordered committed to an institution until they decide between their mother and father. Circuit Judge Feinberg made the order.

A daughter, June, 11 years old, stood by her mother, while two sons, Warren, 12 years old, and Richard, 9 years old, sided with the father.

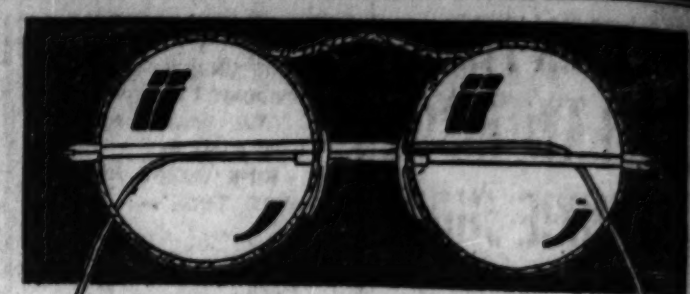

Mrs. Klatt filed suit against Klatt on charges of cruelty on Aug. 13. She asked custody of the children. Klatt contested the plea by testifying that his wife was cruel to the children. The boys corroborated his claims, but June supported her mother.

"I will not give the children to either parent," the judge said. "I'll put them in a home. I've tried the plan before and know that within 30 days they'll be begging to go back to their mother."

When the parents could not agree on a school, the judge instructed the attorneys to make a selection and report to him.

HURT BY STREET CAR

Thomas Cunningham, 56 years old, 652 East 37th place, was probably fatally injured last night when he was struck by a street car at 51st street and Cottage Grove avenue. At the Burdick hospital he was found to be suffering from a skull fracture.

NOW—NOKOL IS SOLD, INSTALLED, SERVICED and GUARANTEED by the FACTORY RIGHT IN CHICAGO

If you can afford COAL you can afford NOKOL

Never before have you been able to buy so much oil heating satisfaction for so little money

The oldest manufacturer, combined with the great Petroleum Heat & Power Company has undertaken to make Nokol Oil Heat available to a million new families. To do this, vast financial resources, prestige and engineering skill have been pledged to the building of a Nokol anyone with a basement heating plant can afford. Judge for yourself if it hasn't succeeded beyond your expectations.

Not only is the cost of the burner surprisingly low but the cost of Nokol Oil Heat is so reasonable that coal heat is frequently expensive by comparison! So what you are paying for coal heat will give you all the luxury and comfort of Nokol Oil Heat.

This is true because your Nokol will be installed by men right from this factory. It will be kept in superb condition by our own experts. The first year this super-service is free. Complete satisfaction is guaranteed by the very company that makes your Nokol.

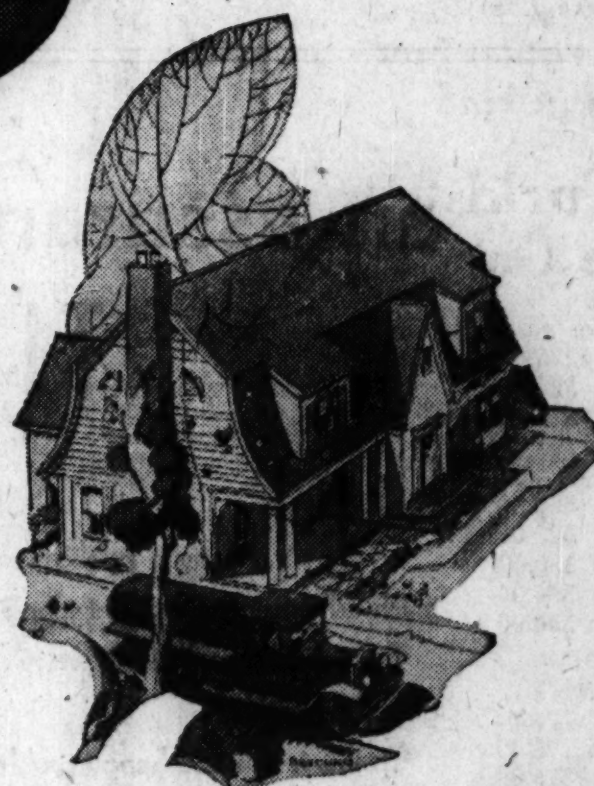

Backed by world's largest oil burner manufactory

In combining with Nokol, the Petroleum Heat & Power Company became the largest oil burner manufactory in the world. It is this company that sponsors this great offer to install, service and guarantee your Nokol.

As the first automatic oil burner ever built to be used in homes, Nokol has enjoyed the enviable position of the pioneer. As the oldest in the field, it has outlived a thousand other makes. Today, over 50,000 families are grateful that they invested $45,000,000.00 in this great method of heating with oil.

So satisfactory has Nokol proved under every possible condition, that we can afford to offer you the most liberal time payment plan.

You will want to begin enjoying Nokol Oil Heat at once. With the heating season just at hand, it is advisable to get every hour of the luxurious comfort that is due you. Prompt action will speed the happy moment. Phone the factory now to send out a trained oil heating man to make a survey of your heating plant. Or mail the coupon below indicating when it would be convenient for him to call.

You can heat your house with NOKOL for half what you think it costs

You need not postpone the happy day any longer. All the luxury and comfort of automatic oil heat can now be yours. You can afford to have a Nokol installed in your heating plant. You can afford to heat your house with oil.

Nokol prices are so low that if Nokol Oil Burners could be produced for nothing, it would make little difference in the total cost of installation! And actual costs of coal heat and Nokol Oil Heat have been made practically the same.

Nearly 3 million dollars invested by Chicago home owners in NOKOL Oil Heat

Chicago homeowners know the value of Nokol Oil Heat. This great method has served them for 12 years. Longer than any other. They have invested practically $3,000,000.00 of their own money in Nokol Oil Burners.

Now today with all the prestige, financial resources and engineering skill of the Petroleum Heat & Power Company, even greater value is offered. All the families that have looked forward to the day when they could afford oil heat may now decide this week. Nokol prices are at rock bottom. Nokol Oil Heat commonly costs less than coal heat.

With the oldest and most experienced factory making your installation, servicing it, and guaranteeing it, you get an extra value in Nokol that is most unusual.

NOKOL

Automatic Oil Heat

What you are spending now to heat your house will give you all the comfort and luxury of NOKOL Oil Heat

The moment your Nokol is installed home becomes a happier place in which to live. Housekeeping is changed to home making. The new freedom from the care of a heating plant adds pleasant hours to each day's schedule. There is so much more time for little tasks that add a touch of beauty to the home. Time for the children. Time for planning new recipes. Leisure for self-improvement. Men, too, get a great kick out of their "life-long vacation".

All this luxury is being paid for in what you are now spending to heat your house. It might as well be yours.

NEW CHINA ARMY FORTIFIES VAST BORDER PASSES

More Troops Stationed in Case of Invasion.

BY JOHN POWELL.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
HAILAR, Manchuria, Sept. 4.—The town of Hailar, with a population of about 20,000 and the capital of the so-called Barga district, is on the second line of defense of the Chinese against a possible Russian invasion. The first line of defense is formed around Manchouli and Dala Nor.

At Hailar are located about 20,000 Chinese troops belonging to Gen. Wan Feng, the viceroy of Heilongjiang province. The Chinese troops from the province of Fengtien are using Taitshar, farther back, as their present base.

The atmosphere of war, prevailing in the front line of defense, likewise prevails here. The railroad yards are filled with troop trains and railroad trucks, bearing the munitions and paraphernalia of the Chinese armies. At the same time, vacant fields next to the tracks are filled with troops.

Hailar Easily Accessible.

Hailar is 116 miles east of the Chinese-Siberian boundary at Manchouli. It is accessible to attacks by the Russians from the north and by the Mongol nomads from the Outer Mongolia boundary to the south by reason of its open position.

It is believed that Chinese military experts do not intend to put up serious resistance here. In the event of a definite outbreak of war, but instead will fall back and defend the passes of the Great Khingan mountains. This is apparently the reason for the main concentration being at Taitshar.

Hailar is important economically as the metropolis of Barga district, which includes practically all of Heilongjiang province west of the Great Khingan mountains. The Barga district is about 600 miles long, north and south, and 200 miles long, east and west. It is made up of rolling grassy lands untouched by plow.

Many Russians in Hailar.

Hailar itself is only a quarter of a century old. Today it is populated with a curious mixture of people, including about 5,000 Russians, some of whom are "White" or "Caucasian," and some of whom are "Red." There are also about 1,000 Mohammedan Tartars who trace their ancestry back to the days of Genghis Khan.

The population in the country, surrounding Hailar and reaching to the borders of Outer Mongolia, consists of 20,000 nomadic Mongols, first cousins to the American Indians. The northern section of the Barga district, adjacent to the Argun river, is populated with about 5,000 Russian exiles, who crossed the Siberian border after the Soviet revolution. These Russians are engaged in the cattle and dairy industry.

The chief industries of the Barga area are wool, hides and furs, the wool export amounting to $500,000 annually, which goes to America for the carpet industry. The hides and furs are also chiefly exported to America, being principally handled by the Russo-American firm of Kiplan & Warshofsky.

With a feeling that war is imminent,

CHINA PREPARES TO DEFEND ITS BORDER

China, fearing Russian invasion, has established two lines of troop defense:

1. At Dala Nor and Manchouli, the first line.
2. At Hailar, the second line.

Taitshar is the chief Chinese point of concentration. In case of war, Chinese troops are expected to fall back from Hailar and defend the passes of the Great Khingan mountains.

The highest Mongol authority is known as "Amban Duke Guit" and resides at Hailar. His powers are circumscribed by the Chinese commissioner for foreign affairs, Chou Tzu-jen, who administers on behalf of the Mukden and Nanjing governments.

Commissioner Chou says that the entire boundary of the Barga area which fronts Siberia is harassed by Soviet attacks, and that eight Chinese customs stations along the Argun river have been raided during the last two weeks. Chinese merchants were killed and towns looted, he said.

Area in Great Fear of Russia. He added that the Chinese population here had been terrorized by reports from Siberia that the vast Chinese population on the Siberian side, probably about 100,000, had its properties confiscated by the Soviet authorities.

Hailar's streets and the countryside are a vast sea of mud, due to incessant rainfall.

MRS. MONTAGNE GETS DIVORCE ON CRUELTY CHARGE
Reno, Nev., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Grace Argo La Montagne has been granted a divorce here from Bernard V. La Montagne of New York, former polo player and society favorite.

Mrs. Montagne charged her husband with desertion and cruelty. She said he wrote to her that it would be better for them to live separately. They were married in New York Dec. 27, 1920.

JUSTICES OF PEACE WARNED BY SWANSON TO MAKE REPORTS

The seventy-five justices of the peace in Cook county were called to the state's attorney's office yesterday afternoon to be told that unless they make regular monthly reports of their doings as required, State's Attorney Swanson will take action against them.

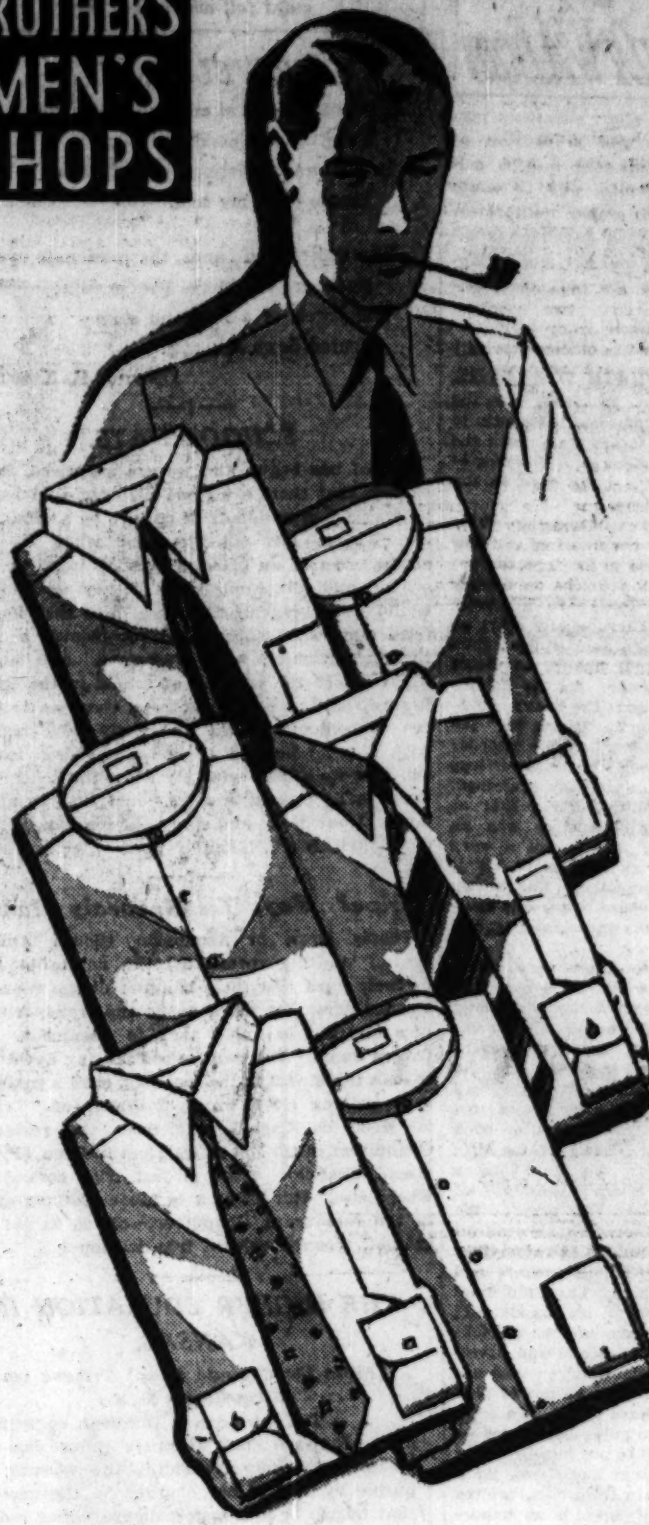

For years the justices of the county have been under no supervision and many of them have apparently failed to make the proper financial accounting to the county. The fines collected in state cases belong to the county, and in many cases this money has been turned into other funds in the villages instead of the county.

The justices were asked some months ago to make the proper reports on blanks sent out by Assistant State's Attorney Robert Donagan. Many of them failed to do this, and yesterday every justice was "called on the carpet" by Prosecutor Swanson. One other advantage of the report system is that it gives the prosecutor a check on possible automobile speeding traps.

Husband Slays Wife and Paramour with an Ax

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Irene Waitt, 35, and Gordon Rose, a soldier at Fort Bliss, were slain in the Waitt home here late last night by the woman's husband, H. F. Waitt, who admitted he had beaten them to death with an ax. Both were killed as they slept.

IRONIZED YEAST. Your Own Druggist Guarantees
Results—or Trial Costs Nothing

"I am a nurse at the hospital and I am writing to let you know how glad I am to recommend your tonic. I do believe I would have been dead if it hadn't been for IRONIZED YEAST."

"It gave me a good appetite. I got strong and gained 7 pounds in 2 weeks. I could walk all day about how much good IRONIZED YEAST did me. You would be surprised at the strength I gained in 3 or 4 days."

"I really did me good and I will send you some of my tonic. Please send me one bottle and I will send you some of my tonic. Please send me one bottle and I will send you some of my tonic."

What Makes IRONIZED YEAST Work Such Quick Wonders?

People are continually amazed at the wonderful weight-building and strengthening benefits of IRONIZED YEAST. Many write that they were doubtful before they started, but after taking it for a few short weeks they were surprised to find they had gained 5 to 15 pounds. Ugly features fell out. Skinny limbs became gracefully rounded. Faded and hollow cheeks blossomed into healthy, rosy cheeks.

IRONIZED YEAST is two pounds in one. Weight-building YEAST and 3 kinds of blood-purifying YEAST. We concentrate it so that 12 SACKS of raw, live YEAST make only 1/2 SACK of the concentrate which goes into IRONIZED YEAST. You can easily see why each small bottle of this new IRONIZED YEAST gives you quick, EXTRA, weight-building results through this 24-oz. bottle.

Only when Yeast is Ironized is it most effective; for iron-working iron is needed to bring out the weight-building, strengthening values of Yeast. Pleasant habit, no "yeasty" taste. No gas or bloating.

THE COUNCIL AND THE RAILROADS.

The prolonged indifference of the south side railroads to the claims of the public for terminal improvements has at last seemingly provoked the city council to adopt a policy of coercion. The chairman of the council committee on railway terminals, Ald. Kaindl, has challenged the delinquent carriers. He will address peremptory communications to the railroads and he will sponsor measures ordering the railroads to arrange their terminal properties and start construction.

The railroads have invited this prospective interference in their affairs. Their defiance of the public interest in the terminal project has been intolerable. They have evaded and violated their obligations and agreements, not only by ignoring specified dates for the initiation of terminal development but by apparently deliberate manipulations to defer the improvements indefinitely. For some time it has been obvious that the railroads would not undertake a program of Chicago development of their own initiative; that so long as they were free from compulsion the eastern terminals would be the exclusive beneficiaries.

The process of public interference with private enterprise is repugnant to us and to the residents of Chicago. We would prefer that the terminal should represent a recognition of responsibility on the part of the railroads, but we will not sacrifice our welfare and prosperity to a principle abused in this instance. Since the railroads are not willing to give us what we may legitimately expect, our restraint and patience are no longer virtues. The south side railroads have stifled the growth of an important section of the city. We have invested heavily in the work of straightening the river for the purpose of overcoming the obstacles which the superannuated and unsightly railroad terminals and properties have imposed on our progress. This undertaking will be disappointing unless the railroads are held to their terminal agreements. Aid should be supported by the council as it will be supported by the sentiment of the community in his uncompromising negotiations with the railroads.

MAIL SUBSIDIES FOR MERCHANT SHIPS.

Final judgment on the merits of the controversy between the United States Lines, Inc., and the postoffice department may well be postponed until after the facts are developed at the hearing before an interdepartmental committee in Washington. The company bought the Leviathan and ten other ships for $16,500,000 after competitive bidding in which none of the other bidders offered a sum within millions of the price at which the sale was made. Securities in the United States Lines were sold to the public on the basis of an attractive prospectus of earnings.

Postmaster General Brown, pointing to the prospectus, has said that the company on its own admission does not require any additional help from the government in the form of mail carrying subsidies. Therefore he has declined to approve the granting of such a subsidy. The company replies that it had included the mail contract in its estimate of earnings and, further, that under the terms of the Jones-White act to encourage the creation of an American merchant marine it is entitled to the contract. The company has threatened not to build either the two projected liners, equal in size to the Leviathan, which its contract with the government called for, or two cabin class ships which were also projected, if it does not get the mail contract.

A good deal of heat, as might be expected, has been generated by this conflict of opinion, and in so far as the facts have been made public they have come from prejudiced sources. It is to be hoped that the government's policy will be determined only after an impartial survey of the situation; meanwhile it is possible to lay down certain broad principles which should guide the government in the matter.

It is in the national interest to have under the American flag a fleet of large and swift merchant ships. We can use them to advantage in peace and we must have them in war, particularly if our cruiser tonnage is to be limited. Other nations with aspirations toward sea power and foreign trade have larger fleets of fast merchant ships than the United States has. These ships are readily convertible into cruisers and can easily mount six inch guns. They are formidable in maintaining communications and because of their speed and steadiness at sea constitute a powerful naval weapon. With enough ships of this type a nation can concentrate its warships for service against the enemy's navy while protecting overseas routes with converted merchant ships. The East merchant ships have additional value as transports should we need them again for sending an army overseas. The cost of a mail subsidy is a small charge upon the taxpayers for the security which a merchant fleet offers in time of war.

If the United States is to have the liners it needs it must offer substantial inducements to private capital to build and operate them. The investment must be made as attractive as it reasonably can be. The operation of a fleet of fast ships is a new thing in this country, and only the hope of a substantial reward is likely to attract money in the quantity required, even with the government making substantial construction loans at low interest rates.

The postmaster general is confronted with a departmental deficit and is properly eager to reduce it to a minimum. Before denying the subsidy, however, his department should show that refusing it does not violate the letter or spirit of the purchase contract and that the mails can be carried by other American ships at less cost and with equal satisfaction. Even then the larger aspect of policy just referred to should be seriously considered. But that is a matter for the President's judgment.

The new owners of the United States Lines paid far more for the fleet than any one else offered, a fact which suggests a willingness to deal honorably with the government. Accordingly, the company is entitled to a fair and considerate hearing on its claims.

A GOVERNMENT OF MEN AND NOT OF LAW.

The assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement takes a view of the Jones law which is strikingly significant of prohibitionism. He is gratified that the courts have used with discretion the authority allowed them under this law, and that thus applied it "is not going to do what some people predicted in the way of cruel and inhuman punishment."

From which opinion we gather that the Jones law is satisfactory on the condition that it is not vigorously enforced and that what has been directed by the legislative branch of the government under the whip of dry bigotry is to be withheld by the discretion of the courts.

This may seem an acceptable compromise to Mr. Lowman and other complacent drys, but it falls something short of the President's admonition upon obedience to all the laws, and what is of graver moment still, it represents a complete perversion of the basic principle of all principles of American government. That basic principle of all principles of government is that ours is a government of law and not of men; but when we justify a law on the condition that it will not be enforced save upon or according to the discretion of an officer, whether administrative or judicial, we are accepting a government of men and not of law.

The multiplication of laws which has been the inevitable result of the passion for ruling private conduct and imposing upon private conscience has made inevitable government by men, is other words, by the discretion or favor or interest of officials, but it is a development which should be deprecated and resisted, not approved and officially recognized.

The defense of the Jones law on the theory that it does not mean what it says, or in other words, will not be enforced to the full extent of its excess, perfectly illustrates how the prohibitionist, while summoning all citizens to respect for the constitution and for the law, himself turns his back on both.

CIGARET GOOPS.

The manners of cigar smokers have not been appreciably refined since women have adopted the habit. Indeed, many of the uncivilized practices seem to have been introduced by women, for by contrast the cigar smoker is an unexceptionable citizen.

Before women were permitted the cigar, men were considered enough to smoke on the train in compartments for that purpose. But women have destroyed that socially desirable practice by their egotistical disregard of it, so that now men and women smoke without appreciating their offensiveness in coaches and cars. The regulation against smoking in the diner has not been removed by some railroads. But the men whose smoking conduct on trains is as contemptible as that of the women are the cigar addicts; the cigar smoker is still chivalrous.

Another abominable practice which women's example has encouraged is the dropping of cigar stubs to the floor or ground wherever that may be. The public parks are strewn with this refuse; visitors deposit the remnants on their host's lawn or porch or elsewhere on the premises, a custom fully as squalid as to so dispose of table refuse. Most of the cigar smokers, however, are careful to find a receptacle for their filth.

The cigar smokers, if they are sensitive to the disgraceful conditions which their property has developed, will contribute to the relief of society from the cigar goop. A manual of conduct for smokers attached to each package of cigars might produce a measure of reform. Such a system has as much to recommend it as the state's practice of circulating the rules of good behavior on the highways along with the automobile license plates.

Editorial of the Day

BRITISH RULE AMERICAN SOIL!
(Decatur Herald.)

"Big Bill" Thompson of Chicago would have some wonderful campaign material, if "Big Bill" were still campaigning, in a treaty now being prepared by our state department. This treaty, which apparently has the full approval of President Hoover, actually means the pulling down of the Stars and Stripes and the holding of the Union Jack over an American possession.

The possession in question is the most southerly group of the Philippine Islands. Called the Turtle Islands, they lie closely adjacent to the shores of British North Borneo, and the inhabitants are some 300 or 350 persons from Borneo. The British have been administering such government as there is in this out of the way corner of our domain, and under the new treaty they will continue to govern the land, while the United States retains its title.

The interests involved in this particular case are not important, but the precedent might be applied in a bigger way. Now that the United States turns over the job of governing some of its land to Britain, possibly the British might consider allowing the United States to govern certain lands that are owned by Britain. In the case of the British Islands in the Caribbean, this would remove positively all suspicion that Great Britain might use its possession as naval bases in operations against the United States. Nations are chary about surrendering territory, but the privilege of governing apparently can be farmed out with no sacrifice of national dignity.

How to Keep Well

CONTAGIOUS SKIN DISEASES.

Dr. JOSEPH A. ELLIOTT uses the North Carolina Health Bulletin to spread some information about the minor contagious skin diseases of children and what can be done in the home to control them.

The first considered is impetigo. This commonly goes by the name of summer sores in children. It is the type of sore which so frequently develops on the leg below the knee. There are generally several of them. They usually start as blisters; then change to pustules; then to large ulcers; and, finally, to ulcers with very heavy scabs. The most common subsides a little the heavy crusts of ulcers appear to be "stuck on," the skin. Almost every boy has this disorder at some time or other. If the lower legs of almost any man are closely examined, scars will be found indicating that at some time in youth impetigo was an affliction. Plainly, this is not a very serious disorder in an older child, but it is not a pleasant companion. The factors causing it are: exposure to persons similarly afflicted, wounds and scratches, and dirty feet and legs.

It is not best to allow very thick, heavy scabs to pile up. It is better to soften the scabs with a moist dressing and to remove them; better still, to use proper dressings in order to prevent them. A sore on one spot may serve as a focus from which infection is spread to other parts of the skin by infected fingers. Care is required to prevent a crop of sores in the weeks of the first one. One of the most important lessons for the mother to learn is that care of the first summer sore will prevent the child from having sores on the legs all summer long. The hands of the mother should be cleaned well both before and after dressing the sore. The child must be instructed to keep his hands off; must not indulge in the pastime of picking off the scabs. All scabs and dressings must be burned. Children who are free from sores will do well not to play with children who have them. If a child develops sores while going barefoot or barelegged it is well to put him in longer trousers, and stockings and shoes, for a time, to save his skin from cuts, bruises and scratches. Cleanliness is an important preventive measure.

THE HIGHER EDUCATION IN KANSAS.

[From the Chautauk (Kas.) Tribune via Cedar Rapids (Ia.) A.]

The research of the dean of women at the Emporia State Teachers' college has led to issue an order forbidding the wearing of purple by any of her charges on the ground that purple is to a male collegian what red is to a male cow. It enfames him. This same dean, if our memory does not betray us, is the one who in years past has issued ukases against the word "soup" as a part of the vocabulary of the tyro teachers because in saying it the lips assume a provocative position.

Tripe? Nay, 'Tis Heavenly Manna.

People down in Ascunson (South America, dearie) wanting special dainties not to be found in their town had their banquet dishes cooked in Buenos Aires 700 miles away and transported all nice and hot in quick time to Ascunson. That cheers us up. We want to see the day dawn when we can think of it in the morning, send a cable, and that evening sit down to a dinner of "Tripe à la Mode de Caen" sent from the restaurant Chandivert in the old Hotel Than Caen (France, dearie, France). Tripe is just tripe cooked anywhere else. But Tripe à la Mode de Caen cooked in the restaurant Chandivert—oh, la la! très grande! très merveilleux! très délicieux!

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

REVELATION.

I strove with wind and sun and earth
To make my poems whole;
In one great bursting hour of birth
I came upon my soul.

The upstretched hands, the passionate eyes
No longer sought the stars in vain;
The jewels of a thousand skies
Poured down like rain.

SCHOOL DAYS.

School has begun and we are surprised, indeed, to note that there are some children who have to be dragged to the doors of culture by a truant officer. Ah, it was not like that when we were young. We of an older generation loved to go to school, and all through the dreary vacation we would count eagerly the long days that kept us from our dear teachers and our beloved arithmetic, geography and grammar. And on the night before the opening of school in the fall we hardly went to bed, so anxious were we to be at the schoolhouse bright and early next morning with a great big red apple for our dear teacher. Oh, how we sobbed with joy when the schoolhouse door finally opened and we could rush in and sit down at our desks and study our lessons. Yes, we did, lykell, lykell, lykell!

We want to see the day dawn when we can think of it in the morning, send a cable, and that evening sit down to a dinner of "Tripe à la Mode de Caen" sent from the restaurant Chandivert in the old Hotel Than Caen (France, dearie, France). Tripe is just tripe cooked anywhere else. But Tripe à la Mode de Caen cooked in the restaurant Chandivert—oh, la la! très grande! très merveilleux! très délicieux!

THE HIGHER EDUCATION IN KANSAS.

[From the Chautauk (Kas.) Tribune via Cedar Rapids (Ia.) A.]

The research of the dean of women at the Emporia State Teachers' college has led to issue an order forbidding the wearing of purple by any of her charges on the ground that purple is to a male collegian what red is to a male cow. It enfames him. This same dean, if our memory does not betray us, is the one who in years past has issued ukases against the word "soup" as a part of the vocabulary of the tyro teachers because in saying it the lips assume a provocative position.

LATH

that never lets go of plaster

PLASTER applied over Red Top Rocklath stays on. Authoritative tests have shown that gypsum plaster bonds more tightly to Rocklath than to any other type of lath.

In hundreds of thousands of homes, over a period of thirty years, gypsum lath has been satisfactorily used as a plaster base.

Red Top Rocklath is a rigid sheet of gypsum encased in a tough, fibrous covering. Rocklath and plaster, combined to form a wall or ceiling finish, have double the endurance of ordinary lath and plaster finishes. Even before plaster is applied, Rocklath provides wall and ceiling finishes comparable in strength to ordinary lath and plaster.

Fireproof—gives fire protection

Rocklath is made from gypsum rock. It will not burn or support combustion, but adds fire protection wherever it is used. It does not swell, buckle, or shrink. And it does not deteriorate with age.

No stains or streaks

Plaster discoloration, stains or streaks do not occur with Rocklath. It lengthens the life of decoration.

Red Top Rocklath, used with Red Top Plaster, is economical. Because it provides a solid plastering base, it saves the plaster ordinarily wasted in "keying" plaster to most types of lath.

Patented edges add strength

A special feature of Red Top Rocklath is its patented folded edges. These provide exceptional strength and contribute to the excellent results obtained with this superior plastering base.

Workmen like Rocklath because it is easy to handle and apply. It cuts and scores cleanly, without waste. It is easy to plaster over and, when plastered, provides an excellent base for any type of decoration.

Uniform bundles protect lath surfaces

Red Top Rocklath is delivered in compact, uniform bundles which protect the lath during transport, and which are conveniently stacked and handled on the job. The distinctive red bindings and the Rocklath trade-marks that appear on each bundle and the continuous brand that appears on each board, are the sign of a good lathing job wherever they are seen.

Rocklath comes in two sizes—16 inches by 32 inches, and 16 inches by 48 inches. Before you build, investigate this economical LATH that never lets go of plaster. Your USG dealer can give you complete information. United States Gypsum Company, 300 West Adams St., Chicago, Ill.

Cross sections on 2 x 4 studs of walls lined with Rocklath, the fireproof lath, and plaster with Red Top Plaster, and walls lined with wood lath, over which plaster has been applied. Fire won't burn Rocklath—it effectively checks fire and saves life and property.

ONE FARM GROUP FEARS PACKERS WANT TOO MUCH

Opposes Removal of All Restrictions.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—Opposition of one influential farm organization to the proposed modification of the "packers' consent decree" is so far as it would permit the Chicago "Big Four" packers to own or control stockyards, terminal markets and market journals, was stated at today's hearing before the special committee of agriculture department bureau chiefs.

W. I. Drummond, chairman of the farm of governors of the American Farm Congress, asserted that while in opposition, representing a membership of more than 100,000 in farm organizations and similar associations, approved modification of the decree is to allow the packers to operate retail stores and handle unrelated food lines, it is opposed to the removal of the restrictions on other activities pending completion of its study of the live stock marketing problem.

Dr. A. E. S. Expected.

The hearings, which will close next Saturday and in which more than 300 farm organizations have been invited to participate, were undertaken by the agriculture department at the request of Attorney General Mitchell to ascertain the sentiment of farmers generally before the government's answer to the packers' petitions for modification of the decree is filed in the District Supreme court.

The American Farm Bureau federation, the National Grange, and the National Farmers' union are expected to file briefs with the committee, composed of Dr. John R. Mohler, chief of the bureau of animal industry, Dr. Nils Olsen, chief of the bureau of agricultural economics, and R. W. Williams, department solicitor, before the hearings are closed.

Points to Oil Industry.
Like the witnesses who have preceded him and those who followed him today, Mr. Drummond pointed to the phenomenal growth of chain stores as a substantial justification for the measure of modification which his organization has endorsed. He asserted that the packers should be given the same right to "follow through" which is enjoyed by other industries, notably the oil industry, and added: "If the packers were allowed to follow through and establish retail markets, it would be much better for the consumer."

N. C. Warren, director of the Colorado-Nebraska Sheep Raisers' association, declared his organization is not concerned over the question of stockyard, terminal railroad and market journal ownership, but it does believe that the package should be allowed to use their distribution facilities to the fullest extent as a means of assistance to the farmer and livestock producer. The decree, he insisted, has tended to stifle competition contrary to the purposes of the Sherman and Clayton anti-trust laws.

PLEAT AND TUCK WAR OPENS IN NEW YORK; 7,000 WOMEN STRIKE

New York, Sept. 4.—[AP.—] Seven thousand needle workers, representing the embroidery workers and the hemstitchers, pleaters, and tuckers' unions, went on strike here today in the first of a series of walkouts authorized by the International Ladies Garment Workers' union.

The strike is aimed at sweatshop conditions. Shorter hours and higher wages also are demanded by the needle workers.

Edward F. McGrady, legislative agent for the American Federation of Labor, has been appointed by William Green, president of the A. F. of L., to lead the local strike activities.

to file briefs with the committee, composed of Dr. John R. Mohler, chief of the bureau of animal industry, Dr. Nils Olsen, chief of the bureau of agricultural economics, and R. W. Williams, department solicitor, before the hearings are closed.

SENATE REFERS APPOINTMENTS; AVOIDS DEBATE

Galleries Disappointed at Tame Outcome.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—Galleries crowded, anticipating fiery debate when the senate, reconvening today, departed for the first time from its traditional custom of secrecy to receive presidential appointments in open executive session, were disappointed when the long list was referred to committees without discussion.

Among the appointments were those of Alexander Legge of Chicago and his colleagues on the federal farm board who, named originally on June 15 last, have received no pay and will receive none until they are confirmed by the senate.

Mr. Legge, chairman of the board, and Charles C. Teague of California, were named for one year terms; William F. Schilling of Minnesota and Samuel R. McKelvie of Nebraska, for two year terms; C. B. Penman of Missouri, for a three year term; Charles S. Wilson of New York for a four year term; James C. Stone of Kentucky, for a five year term, and Carl Williams of Oklahoma, for a six year term.

Thus far no active opposition to confirmation of any of the farm board members has been disclosed, although Senator J. J. Pradier (Rep., N. D.) asserted today that "farmers of the northwest are still a little suspicious of Mr. Legge because of his past connection with the International Harvester company."

Among the other appointments submitted by the President for senate confirmation were those of John W. Garrett, to be ambassador to Italy; Gerrit John Diekmann of Holland, Mich., a former member of the house, to be minister to the Netherlands, and George J. Sumnerlin of Louisiana, former chargé d'affaires at Mexico City, to be minister to Venezuela.

The FOOD WASTED in many homes WOULD BUY THIS GENERAL ELECTRIC

That pint of milk which you wouldn't think of giving the children, the half-bottle of cream that's ever so faintly sour, the bowl of applesauce that doesn't smell quite sweet, the soup stock, the end of a leg of lamb... the countless left-overs that would make perfectly good dishes if you could only be sure they were safely fresh.

You can be sure. A General Electric Refrigerator, day and night, year after year, will quietly and automatically maintain a temperature safely below 50 degrees. Left-overs will always be healthfully fresh... you will make fewer trips to market... you will have more original menus with less work... ice cubes whenever you want them... your current bills will be surprisingly low... you will enjoy economies which will go far toward paying for a General Electric Refrigerator.

Keep track of the food you have to throw away for one week, multiply that figure by four... and then compare your result with the moderate monthly payment which will give you the perfect, health-guarding refrigeration which a General Electric assures.

Remember that this is the only refrigerator which has an all-steel cabinet and an hermetically sealed mechanism mounted on top. And it has a performance record which stands unmatched in the history of refrigeration. Come in today and get the whole story.

This record stands alone
There are now more than 300,000 homes enjoying the convenience, economy and protection of General Electric Refrigerators—and not one owner has ever had to spend a dollar for repairs or service.

Tune in on the General Electric Hour broadcast every Sunday evening from 8 to 9, Eastern Standard Time over the NBC network of 42 stations, including WLS, Chicago.

PROCTOR, FATHER OF VAUDEVILLE CHAIN, IS DEAD

Rose from Acrobat to Theater Magnate.

New York, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Frederick Proctor, father of the vaudeville chain, died at his home at Larchmont, N. Y., today. He was 78 years old. Death was due to an attack of congestion of the lungs after an illness of several months.

The veteran producer, who was one of the first theater owners to correlate vaudeville and motion pictures in the same theater, sold his chain of more than 20 theaters in New York and New Jersey last May to Radio-Kath-Orrheim corporation.

Started as a Tumbler. His association with the theater began when he was little more than a boy.

Ported to contribute to the support of his family by the death of his father, a New England country doctor, young Proctor took a job as errand boy in a Boston store and spent his evenings in a gymnasium nearby. The flipflops, cartwheels, and horizontal bar tumbling which he practiced there attracted the attention of a circus performer, who offered him a job.

Saved and Bought Theater. Then began the partnership in which young Proctor, playing under the name of Levanita, worked as a circus and vaudeville performer for many years, touring both the United States and Europe.

He returned to the United States in 1898 with his savings, determined to acquire a theater of his own, and that year took over the Green Street theater in Albany. Three years later found him beginning his operations in New York. The gradual extension of his chain followed.

VETERAN INDIANA PRIEST STRICKEN AT ALTAR; DIES

The Rev. Mgr. William Berg, 75 years old, for more than half a century a leading member of the Catholic clergy in the Calumet district of Indiana, died yesterday at Schererville, in Lake county, of heart disease. Father Berg was stricken at the altar of St. Michael's church, of which he was the pastor, and died shortly afterward.

Two years ago Indiana Catholics joined in celebrating his golden jubilee. At the same time he was appointed monsignor domestic prelate to the pope.

He is survived by one brother and a sister who lives in Germany.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: For the Rainy Day

SWEDISH FLYER TO TRY NORTHERN ROUTE HOP AGAIN

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Sept. 4.—The Swedish flyer, Capt. Albin Ahrenberg and Lieut. Axel Floden, who left Stockholm in June to fly to America via the northern route in the Junkers machine, Sverige, arrived here this afternoon from Iglit, Greenland, on the steamer Julius Thomsen, bringing the Sverige with them.

Capt. Ahrenberg is deeply disappointed. The ship's crew said that for fourteen nights he cried alone in his cabin, and his red eyes bore out the story.

"I assume that Parker Cramer and Bob Gast agree that the northern route is tough for regular air traffic," Capt. Ahrenberg said. "I failed not in sportsmanship. I had my orders of safety first. The foggy Labrador route and poor motor boat man."

Three hours from the Greenland coast and two hours from the Labrador coast a dense fog and a shimmery motor, disturbing the compass, you cannot navigate. Below the fog was the sea. "You cannot obey a safety first order heading into a fog at 125 miles per hour."

"I will fly the Sverige from Copenhagen to Stockholm tomorrow and get released from the safety first order. I will then start out to America or go down as a protest to the hundreds of scolding letters and cables I have received while in Greenland."

"If the northern route is ever to be of any use to aviation the Greenland and Labrador coasts must have numerous radio and navigation stations. It is an easy job to sit in arm chairs and criticize something you know nothing about, but it must be remembered we were out to gain experience and not merely as a sporting effort."

Two years ago Indiana Catholics joined in celebrating his golden jubilee. At the same time he was appointed monsignor domestic prelate to the pope.

He is survived by one brother and a sister who lives in Germany.

Gabriel Weigel, Stage's 'Little Nemo' Dies, Aged 46

Wickford, R. I., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Gabriel Weigel, 46 inches tall, creator of diminutive stage roles, died last night. He was 46 years old and had been on the stage twenty-seven years.

His many appearances included the initial portrayal of Buster Brown and the title role of "Little Nemo."

On April 1, 1901, he became assistant general storekeeper at Albuquerque, N. M., and two years later general storekeeper.

In November, 1913, he went to St. Louis as chief purchasing officer of the Frisco railroad, and in 1915 he became vice president of that road. He temporarily became vice president of the Pierce Oil company at St. Louis in 1918, but returned to railroading in 1920 as general purchasing agent of the New Haven railroad.

"What! No Lemons?" Cries Paris After Torrid Day

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Sept. 4.—Paris is facing another famine in lemons tonight following one of the hottest days of the year. The capital's population crowded shady terraces of cafes and imbibed lemonade to such an extent that it is almost impossible to discover a single lemon in the city tonight. The thermometer registered 95 in the shade and over 100 degrees in the sun.

Ship Halted at Sea After Hitting Big Whale

YARMOUTH, N. S., Sept. 4.—(AP)—The steamer Yarmouth, from Boston was delayed in arrival today, having struck a large whale at Yarmouth. The ship cut into the mammal so deeply that it had to be stopped and backed to free the body from the prow. The whale died.

MRS. MANVEL, 86, DIES; FUNERAL SERVICES TODAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Elsie Manvel, widow of Charles J. Manvel, who served 21 years in the county building as clerk of the Probate and Superior courts, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bishop Cheney Memorial church, 70th avenue. Interment will be in Mount Hope cemetery.

Mrs. Manvel died of pneumonia on Monday at her home, 1438 East 67th street. She was 86 years old.

Born in Saratoga, N. Y., Mrs. Manvel claimed to be a seventh generation descendant of John Howland, whose sons founded New Bedford, Mass. She came with her husband to Chicago in 1885 and has been a resident of the south side for 57 years. One daughter, Viola Manvel, survives.

CELLI, FAVORITE OF MILAN, VISITS HOME: CHICAGO

Once Hull House Lad; Now Ballerino in Italy.

Vincenzo Celli, primo ballerino of La Scala opera at Milan for six seasons, returned home to Chicago last night as a famous dancer, the newboy who changed his way to fame and fortune a few years ago after he had left Hull House.

The European student's bare feet were on his head, but he still spoke the language of Plymouth place, where he was born. As two of his brothers and a number of nephews stood high on their shoulders, Celli high on the car shed from the New York Central train at La Salle street station, he waved gaily to the crowd watching and shouting: "Let us now go home. Our mother waits, and also the ravioli and the macaroni. You I will dance for before I leave Chicago."

Plans Two Month Visit.
Celli will be at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Vacelli, 1909 West Erie street, for two months. He will return again to Milan, where he made his first big success as the pupil of Cecchetti, teacher of Pavlova. He has just completed a tour of Germany in the lead role of Richard Strauss' ballet "The Legend of Joseph."

Celli as a boy sold papers on State street. He first attracted the attention of Miss Ethelene Dal, a teacher at the Jones school, and later that of some of the workers at Hull House. After a number of years in the old Hull House, he was taken under the wing of Adolph Bolin. He made his operatic debut in "The Birthday of the Infanta" in Chicago Civic opera in 1926. In the following year he got out for Milan.

His success in Italy was immediate and in a year he appeared in Paris with Gail in a Rinsky-Korsakov production. For the last six seasons he has been retained in Milan.

Among the group at the station who accompanied Celli to his parents' home were Lieut. Philip Pardi of the Sheriff's police station, a boyhood friend.

GRAND JURY TOLD OF $20,000 "GIFT" IN BANK AFFAIR

New York, Sept. 4.—[Special.]—The story regarding $20,000 in cash sent by Francesco M. Ferrari, late president of the City Trust company, to the home of Frank H. Warder, former state superintendent of banks, was told today to the extraordinary grand jury investigating the failure of the City Trust company last February with a loss of more than $5,000,000.

Warder is now at liberty under $25,000 bail. He is accused of having accepted a gratuity from Ferrari.

J. Vincent Labate, a director of the City Trust company and one of the heads of the Federal Securities company in which Ferrari was interested, told the jury of a trip to the home of Mr. Warder. There, he said, he handed the $20,000 to Mrs. Warder. His testimony was said to be substantially the same as given during the recent investigation of the state banking department and its relation to the City Trust company failure.

At this hearing, Labate testified that between November, 1927, and March, 1928, he visited the Warder home under the instructions of Ferrari. On one occasion, he said, Ferrari called him to his office and gave him $10,000 in bills. He then told him to go to the Harlem Bank of Commerce where he would get from Anthony Di Paola, treasurer of the City Trust company, an additional $10,000. Labate testified he took the $20,000 from Mrs. Warder, as directed by Ferrari.

Jury Selected to Try Strikers for Murder

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—The jury which is to try the sixteen communists and strikers, members of the National Textile Workers union, accused of killing Chief of Police O. F. Aderholt of Gastonia was completed this afternoon after seven days of examination. Hundreds of talesmen were questioned by eleven attorneys for the prosecution and nine for the defense. The total number of veniremen examined was 355.

Celli left Chicago eleven years ago, when he was 15, with a theatrical troupe. After playing with Otis Skinner in "Kismet" and later with May Robinson's company, he was taken under the wing of Adolph Bolin. He made his operatic debut in "The Birthday of the Infanta" in Chicago Civic opera in 1926. In the following year he got out for Milan.

His success in Italy was immediate and in a year he appeared in Paris with Gail in a Rinsky-Korsakov production. For the last six seasons he has been retained in Milan.

OFFICIAL URGES REGISTRY CURB ON ALIEN CROOKS

Says U. S. Is Helpless Under Present Policy.

Government officials in Chicago yesterday said they recognized the inadequacy of immigration regulations and they are looking toward the drawing tighter of the restrictions on the foreign born who come here with no intent of assimilation except with the lawless classes.

Under the present policy of losing track immediately of the streams of foreign born who pour through Ellis island and other entry ports, the government is virtually helpless to combat the alien who turns his mind to crime and away from a life conducive to the making of a useful American citizen, it was pointed out. As a remedy a registration system similar to that imposed upon strangers in every European country was recommended yesterday by S. D. Smith, chief of the Chicago office of the federal immigration service.

"Curbs Only Crooks."
"An honest man coming into our country from another land could have no prejudices against being properly registered with authorities here and there as he moved about the country. Only the alien crook could be expected to protest," declared Mr. Smith.

"When an American reaches London, or Paris, or Berlin, or Hamburg, about the first thing he is required to do is to supply the authorities of those cities with a complete account of himself," continued Mr. Smith. "And it is done so simply and easily as to inconvenience no visitor abroad. The hotel clerks or lodging house keepers, wherever the American may stop, jot down the information required, and these memoranda are turned over to the police. That system could be adopted and made to work out as effectively as it does in Europe.

Penalties for Failure.
"There are penalties for the failure of a hotel to obtain and forward promptly the data required by law from their guests from a foreign country, and penalties also for the man from abroad who fails to supply correctly these data."

Mr. Smith pointed out that what might be termed the beginning in the right direction was put into effect by the United States authorities in 1925 with a rule requiring that every immigrant be given an identification card at the port of entry. The primary idea in this was to protect the alien, he said.

Fewer city and state laws, better federal deportation laws, and a fuller sense of the duty of jury service are needed to suppress racketeering in Chicago, Judge Daniel P. Trude of the Peony court told a meeting of Masons at the Auditorium hotel last night.

CRAZED BY RUM, STABS 7 BEFORE POLICE SEIZE HIM

Two men were in the county hospital last night with serious knife wounds and five others were slightly wounded as a result of the rampage of a young Mexican, crazed with liquor, on West Madison street yesterday. The Mexican, Jesse Nero, 410 South State street, was being held at the detective bureau after his trial had been continued by Judge Frederick Elliott until Sept. 16 because of the condition of two of his victims.

The two seriously wounded were William Murphy, 35 years old, 4737 Maiden avenue, and Joseph Hall, 23 years old, 565 West Madison street. Both were stabbed several times in the body. The others injured are John Miller, 623 West Madison street; Mike Zac, 541 West Madison street; John Brank, 1745 Cornell street; Joseph Meertens of the Lindy hotel, 551 West Madison, and Harry Heltman, 515 North Clark street.

Nero ran amuck in the vicinity of 565 West Madison street, slashing at pedestrians with his knife until he was overpowered by Sgt. James Kilgore and a detective squad, who were passing by.

WHEN YOU LOOKED AT YOUR HAIR TODAY...

...was it dull and faded—or were you proud of its glorious color-sheen?

There are few women who live in cities whose hair still possesses the natural color-sheen on which true hair beauty depends.

Dust in the air necessitating too frequent shampooing... acid and carbon fumes found in a city's atmosphere... these are the reasons why the hair soon loses its natural color-sheen and becomes dull and lifeless in appearance.

The great Nestle Laboratories, famous for their numerous contributions to hair science and beauty, have finally invented a preparation that actually restores color-sheen to the hair. It is called Nestle ColorRinse. Thousands of women are already using it... delighted with the glorious new color-sheen... the sparkling high lights... the increased charm and fascination... that it brings to their hair.

Nestle ColorRinse is not a dye nor a bleach. It is a harmless, temporary vegetable coloring that will neither stain nor rub off yet is easily removed by a single shampoo! Women find that in addition to restoring color-sheen, Nestle ColorRinse gives the hair an extraordinary softness and silkiness. And they find that it actually benefits the health of the hair, helping to overcome excessive oiliness and to remove the causes of dry hair.

You, too, will be delighted... you, too, will be proud of your hair... after a simple rinsing with ColorRinse. Buy a box today. Each box contains six rinses. Use one after a shampoo tonight. Because it is a Nestle preparation you know that it is absolutely harmless... that you can use it as often as necessary to restore to your hair the exquisite charm of glorious color-sheen!

BY EDWARD BURNS.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 4.—Our Cubs' winning streak over the St. Louis Cardinals, which had mounted to 11 straight, was broken this afternoon in an interesting though sloppy game, the first installment of a double header. After losing, 14 to 8, however, Mr. McCarthy's boys stepped right back and took the second game, 8 to 1, thus staking themselves to another half game in their lead over the second place Pittsburgh Pirates. Their edge over the Pirates tonight stands at a cool 12 with 25 to go.

The first game was of the genus rough and tumble and perhaps was a bit remarkable in that exactly one diamond of the Cubs' 14 runs were unearned. An error by English led to six runs in the fifth inning and one by Tolan in the eighth accounted for another center of six, all of which were unearned.

Rick Wilson and Rogers Hornsby were the only ones to get the sphere into the first game riling. Hack being the honor of propelling his 36th homer and Bog his 33d. Hack also had the satisfaction of making the decisive out.

Gay Bush went out of the first game with visions of a mark against his record, for the score was 7 to 3 against the Cubs when he ran to home. A five run rally ended the game in the sixth inning, and the Cubs immediately took the lead in the seventh. Pomeroy was the lad who took the fall for the loss in the eighth.

In the second game, Root chalked up his 11th victory after getting away with a discouraging start. For a while the teams were held helpless by Earl Johnson, but in the sixth they tore loose for six runs. The nightcap was ended at the end of the eighth on account of darkness.

FIRST GAME

The first game was a creditable athletic performance until the last of the 10th, the first 4½ innings seeing the Cubs, 2; Cards 1. One of the Cubs' two earned runs was produced by the first inning and Hack Wilson's hit accounted for the pair produced by the Cubs.

The Cardinals opened with a walk to Douthett, who went to third on Smith's single to right and scored while Orestis and Pritch were going down in a double play. Bottomley walked, but was forced by High.

It was three up and three down for the Cubs in the first three innings, but McGinnis got the first Chicago hit of 1929 to start the fourth. It came to nothing, however, for English hit a double play. After this, Hornsby walked and Hack drove the ball into the high left into the left field.

Smith, sending the Rajah in ahead of him. Up till the time there were two out in the Card fifth, the Cubs were boasting two hits at bat, both singles. The second of Bush, both singles. The second of Bush, both singles.

Kerr Figures in Five Hose Double Plays.

Those fourth place Browns hit young Hal McKinn at opportune times yesterday to take the first of a series from the White Sox at Comiskey park, the final score being 7 to 2.

The Sox at times fairly breezed through, Johnny Ogden bore down with all he had to limit the Hose to four blows. It was the 17th time this season the Browns have upset Chicago in 21 games.

Blackburn's brigade started its scoring in the third when Moe Berg doubled to right, moved to third on Ralph Kress' error on McKinn's roller and scored a moment later on Bill Cissell's sacrifice fly to Schulte.

Kamm, then lined to Melillo and McKinn was doubled off first on the same play. Melillo to Blue.

Cissell again was responsible for another Sox run in the fifth. Kerr opened with a single off Ogden's shins.

Kerr committed another fumble, this time on Berg's grounder, but recovered in time to toss the batter out at first. Kerr swiped third and moved home as Cissell forced McKinn, who had walked, Ogden to Kress.

The Sox at times fairly sparkled in the field, turning in five double plays in all of which Kerr proved a factor.

The same two clubs meet again at Comiskey park today.

WHEN BOBBY SAID "CONGRATULATIONS"

Bobby Jones (right) spoke a new line in his recent amateur golf experience when he said "Congratulations" to Johnny Goodman (left) yesterday at the end of their first round match. Bobby, last year's champion, lost, 1 down, to the Omaha star, who was subsequently beaten.

City's 'Battle with Lake Michigan'
Awes Schmeling

(Copyright, 1929, by the New York Times.)
HAMBURG, Sept. 4.—Chicago and not New York made the greatest impression on Max Schmeling, heavyweight pugilist, who arrived here today from the United States aboard the liner Albert Ballin.

Chicago, he declared, is pulsing with life. He admired that city's battle with Lake Michigan, "which often floods Chicago streets," which made him think of the beach life at the foot of skyscrapers. And he never will forget the great moment when he entered the Chicago Stadium and heard the largest organ in the world playing "Deutschland Uber Alles" and then "America."

He also speaks highly of honor bestowed upon him by the Steuben club, which made him an honorary member. Such rousing receptions as were accorded him in the various cities during his trip were possible only in America, with its enthusiasm for all sporting events and sporting idols, he said.

When he was twelve Johnny decided to be a caddy. By the end of the season he was practicing with a broken club he had picked up. Today the United States court in Omaha took recess when the news of Goodman's victory over Jones was received, and Judge Woodruff, standing on the bench, led in the cheering for Goodman. Judge Woodruff is president of the Lakeside Country club, which Goodman is representing in his play.

PETEE WRACK TO FACE MISSTEP IN $25,000 FEATURE

For the last two seasons the east has been sending the best horses into the west to take the measure of the LeMar Farm stable's Misstep. One after another have failed.

During that time eastern owners have sent practically every great performer from the Atlantic seaboard except J. R. Macomber's Pete Wrack. It became fairly certain yesterday that Pete Wrack will be at Lincoln Fields on Saturday and endeavor to take Misstep's measure in the fourth renewal of the $25,000 added Lincoln handicap.

JOHN GOODMAN, FROM POVERTY TO
"GIANT KILLER"

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 4.—[Special.]—Johnny Goodman, the young Omaha golfer who beat Bobby Jones today and was himself beaten in the second round, has had hard sledding all his life.

He is a boy of the packing house district and has lived in poverty. His mother died when he was eleven years old, leaving a family of nine children. The father left Johnny and his brothers to shift for themselves. Three went to an orphanage. Several were old enough to go to work. Others went to charitable families. Johnny was among the latter.

When he was twelve Johnny decided to be a caddy. By the end of the season he was practicing with a broken club he had picked up. Today the United States court in Omaha took recess when the news of Goodman's victory over Jones was received, and Judge Woodruff, standing on the bench, led in the cheering for Goodman. HOW CHAMPION
BOBBY LOST IN AMATEUR GOLFBows Out When Putter Fails to Work.

Pebble Beach, Cal., Sept. 4.—[AP.]—A review of Bobby Jones' first round defeat by John Goodman in the national amateur golf tournament shows that Calamity Jane, the famous Jones putter, failed to perform in customary style.

While Goodman played excellent golf and held tenaciously to his lead of one hole while shooting par in the final four holes, yet the Jones putter might have turned the tide on four occasions.

What might have been:
Jones missed a 15-foot putt on the 5th green for a birdie two.
Three putted the 7th for a four, one over par.

Missed a six-foot putt on the 9th for a birdie three, halving the hole.
Failed to sink a 10-foot putt for a birdie two on the 17th which would have squared the match.

FIRST HOLE—PAR 4.
Jones missed the first green with his second and was a good 20 feet from the pin with his third, conceding the hole to Goodman, after missing his putt.

SECOND HOLE—PAR 5.
Both drove to the edge of a trap to the right of the second fairway, the balls resting only three feet apart. The champion missed the green again with his second; got on in three, while Goodman was just off the edge. Bobby ran his putt up to within four feet of the cup, but was stymied by Goodman and again conceded the hole.

THIRD HOLE—PAR 4.
Goodman ran down a putt on the third hole for a birdie after a fine pitch to the green, and became three up when Bobby missed his own try for the birdie.

FOURTH HOLE—PAR 5.
Jones won the fourth with a birdie three to cut one hole from Goodman's lead. The champion put his second shot eight feet from the pin and holed out, while the Nebraska was in a trap with his second and got on in three, about four feet from the cup.

FIFTH HOLE—PAR 4.
Both sent their tee shots on the 100 yard fifth close to the pin. Goodman being ten feet away and Bobby about 15 feet. Bobby missed tries for birdies and halved the hole, Goodman staying two up.

SIXTH HOLE—PAR 4.
Jones won the sixth and became only one down, but it was a struggle for both. Bobby and his rival both were in the sand short of the green. The champion barely got on with his third, while Goodman hit his second into a trap short of the green, came out across the green into another trap, and took a six.

SEVENTH HOLE—PAR 5.
Jones went two down again on the 229 yard seventh when his tee shot went to the edge of the green and he took three putts for a four, Goodman getting par three.

EIGHTH HOLE—PAR 4.
Jones won the eighth and became only one down, but it was a struggle for both. Bobby and his rival both were in the sand short of the green. The champion barely got on with his third, while Goodman hit his second into a trap short of the green, came out across the green into another trap, and took a six.

NINTH HOLE—PAR 4.
Jones got a good break on the ninth when his second shot struck a bank and rolled back to within six feet of the cup. Goodman, on in two, missed a 25 foot putt by inches. Bobby also missed the try for a birdie by a narrow margin and they halved in four.

TENTH HOLE—PAR 4.
Goodman remained 1 up after they halved the tenth. Both were well on with their seconds to the green and got

Today's Pairings

PEBBLE BEACH, Cal., Sept. 4.—[AP.]—Pairings for the quarter final 36 hole matches of the national amateur golf tournament follow:

Cyril Tolley vs. Dr. O. F. Wilting.
Joe Swenson vs. H. Chandler Egan.
George Voigt vs. R. C. Schell.
Francis Oulmet vs. William L. Little.

Pebble Beach, Cal., Sept. 4.—[AP.]—Pebble Beach today proved the Waterloo for the Napoleon of golf—Bobby Jones.

Coming to the far west to conquer for the first time, no doubt, the most shot maker and four time holder of the title was eliminated today in the first round of the national amateur championship by a 20 year old Nebraska, Johnny Goodman.

In one of the most sensational upsets the tournament has ever known, Goodman, outplayed Jones in win by the narrow margin of one up in a match that went the full eighteen holes, and was not decided until the final putt.

Goodman's path of glory was brief. He was eliminated himself unceremoniously in the second round by an 18 year old San Franciscoan, William Lawson Little Jr., 2 and 1, but the Nebraska was the main shock producer for the day.

If an earthquake suddenly going to extra holes and all the stars. He was Volney Davis, George Volney Davis, having plenty of trouble. Chandler, Egan, the veteran who wore the amateur crown 25 years ago, put the crusher on Von Elm by 2 and 1, holding the edge all the way over the former champion.

Mr. Egan, a former Chicagoan, was not only a professional but a champion of the game. He was a former National Western, and National Intercollegiate champion. He is a graduate of Yale.

Hornum passed out at the hands of Von Elm, Southern California, by 4 and 1, but the latter was given short shrift in the afternoon by Tolley. Dunlap fell before the steady shooting of Clarence Hubby, the lone Texas entry, while Flinkey, a semi-finalist last year against Jones, shared the champion's fate by losing to William Lason Little Jr., 18 year old San Francisco, 1 up.

Bourn Rallied to Win.

Fortunes shifted with dazzling rapidity. Chuck Hunter, the tall shot-maker from Tacoma, was four up at the tenth on T. A. Bourn of England, apparently headed for a quick victory. In fact, the score board consoled it to him once but a rebuff followed the battle still on Bourn's way much in the running. The Briton squared the contest on the sixteenth and won on the nineteenth. Another Britisher, Eustace Storey, who plays in Jones and a sack coat, was also going to the home hole with Roland MacKenzie of Washington, D. C. There the young American sank a thirty-foot putt for a birdie four to square the match and he won on the twentieth hole.

Two other stars, Jess Sweetser of New York and Jimmy Johnston of St. Paul, were carried to the nineteenth hole before they emerged victorious from the opening tests. Sweetser, a Californian, Ralph Hoffman, and Johnston by another native son, John De Fazio.

The effect of the defeat of Jones was so stunning that the second round was greeted by the galleries as an anti-climax, especially as it developed with unexpected ease. The champion, the giant killer, wound up his day's exploits by fading out of the competition at the hands of the youthful Little.

Volney Plays Steadily.

After the shooting was all over, the field of 32 that started out so confidently this morning was reduced to a group of eight—three from the far west, three from the east, one each from the midwest, and great Britain. Volney's two smashing triumphs were the quickest of either round, but he, the New York favorite, came back on his game to dispose of two of the northwest's threats, Vincent Delpo by 4 and 2 and then Don Moe, holder of the western championship.

Volney played close to par golf in the first round and was not so confident in the afternoon, as he made the turn two up on Moe. This was the outstanding match of the second round, with Moe playing even par himself to the turn, only to trail, and then make a game shot to overtake the New Yorker. At the 400 yard sixteenth Moe sank a forty foot putt to reduce Volney's margin to a single hole, but the eastern star came back at the seventeenth himself with a birdie two to settle the issue.

Volney's next victim will be Jimmy Johnston, who came back after his early call in the first round to beat Roland MacKenzie, 5 and 3, with a typical brand of steady Johnston golf. The Minnesota star was one over par as he made the turn all square, but his even par clip for the next six holes was too fast for the Washington youth to match.

LESSER LIGHTS OF RING GIVEN CHANCE TO SHINE

Departure of Schmeling Changes Things.

Scott Bout Deferred

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Postponement for one week of the boxing bout between Scott, scheduled for Saturday at the Madison Square Garden, was announced today by Humbert Fugazy, promoter. The bout will be held Sept. 18. Each boxer will post an appearance fee of $12,000 with the New York State Athletic commission tomorrow.

BY WESTBROOK PEOLER.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New York, Sept. 4.—The temporary withdrawal of Max Schmeling has had the effect of breaking the deadlock in the heavyweight department of the prize fight industry, and several pairs of leaping tigers who have been in hibernation, sucking their paws in the leer stores, will be led into the arena to face the two largest rivals of the Garden corporation and the Fugazy firm, before the end of this month.

Herr Schmeling has retired to Germany to ponder a complex problem in finance, which has intricate political involvements also. He seems to have been over-financed by his various sets of managers to such an extent that various stockholders now claim 150 per cent of his earnings. As his earnings cannot exceed 100 per cent, it is obvious that for every $100,000 he finds himself $50,000 in debt.

Need Economic Genius.

In the end some economic genius of the industry may happen along with a Young plan whereby Herr Schmeling may deduct 150 per cent from 100 per cent and still show a net profit for himself. But in the meantime he is a miniature of his own Fatherland at the time when the reich found it profitable to make no money because the creditor nations demanded 200 per cent of all Germany's earnings. After a certain lapse of time Herr Schmeling's shareholders may decide that it is better to accept 30 per cent of an active pugilist's actual earnings than a theoretical profit of 150 per cent of no earnings at all.

There will be some political adjustments to be made also, for Max gave serious offense when he refused to fight a pugilist owned and operated by a gentleman who once got up a big banquet for one of the great prize fight commissioners. The great commissioner, wishing to repay the compliment of the banquet, ordered Schmeling to fight this gentleman's son, but the gentleman could make no funds. Schmeling replied that he would not accept this fight as it was his personal opinion that the gentleman was a bum.

And so it is his bum's bum, Herr Schmeling added, and furthermore, I will not fight him because I am sore at him.

Others Permitted to Advance.

This temporary elimination of the young man who knocked out Johnny Rio and almost crushed Pauline Uscudun permits of the advancement of several others, including Vittorio Campolo, the successor of Luis Angel Firpo. Vittorio is as tall as Jess Wilkard, six feet five inches, and just about as large, weighing 225 pounds when hungry. He was hungry for some time, but he made several thousand dollars fighting for Mr. Fugazy this summer and may have taken on 25 or 30 pounds since then.

Vittorio, when hungry, is a serious minded pugilist, much resembling Luis Angel in the respect that when the bell rings he has no interest but to walk out and start beating his opponent over the head and flanks with a right arm like a 36 ounce baseball bat. He is training camp and short and stout strokes with this weapon and Arturo was so distressed that he fouled out. In his next bout Vittorio used the on the phomax Heener, the crushed rock of New Zealand, winning by a knockout.

On the face of matters, it appears that Mr. Fugazy owns a prize fighter as good as any of those owned by the Garden firm. Jack Sharkey's technical superiority must be discounted by his temperamental peculiarities. He is warlike in his training camp and his light heavyweight champion, the light heavyweight champion, will fight at the Yankee stadium at catch weights, which probably means about 165 pounds for Loughran to 180 for Sharkey.

Cubs Divide with Cardinals; Robins Defeat Phillies Twice, 4-3 and 9-7 single to right and Orsatti got the ball to High before Wilson reached third, but Hack's hand slide knocked the ball from High's hand. Haines relieved Hill and Stephenson doubled to right, Wilson scoring and Cuyler stopping at third. Cuyler scored on Tolson's sacrifice fly to Orsatti. Taylor ended the inning with a fly to Orsatti.

Cubs Get Temporary Lead.

The Cubs took the lead in the seventh. Neftz doubled and pulled up at third while McMillan was beating out a bunt. For the second time in the game English hit into a double play, but Neftz scored on the effort, making the count 8 to 7 in favor of the Cubs.

Frisch's homer tied the score at the outset of the seventh. Bottomley followed with a double. Jim passed while Rootger popped to English and went to pinch Batter Holm. Fenner, who was in to pinch to Holm, then walked. J. Wilson and Gilbert, filling the bases, Haines batted for Haines and tied to Stephenson.

It was in the eighth that the Cards made their second batch of a half dozen unearned runs. It started with Tolson dropping McMillan's throw after the latter had captured Douthitt's grounder. Orsatti sacrificed, and Hornsby threw out Frisch for the second out. Bottomley, who has given an intentional pass and Rootger was given one, not an intentional, filling the bases. John Butler, who had gone to third for High, tripled, Douthitt, Bottomley and Rootger scoring. Butler scored on J. Wilson's double, and Wilson went to third on Gilbert's single and scored on Haines's single. Douthitt, up the second time, supplied the third run.

The Cubs went out in order in the ninth.

The Cards had a lot of notions when they started the second game and weren't a bit nice to Charley Root in their first inning. After the Cubs had been retired in order, Douthitt led off with a triple and Orsatti walked. Frisch fouled to Bottomley, Bottomley knocked out his homer No. 27, scoring Douthitt and Orsatti ahead of him. Rootger singled, High flied to Wilson and J. Wilson singled, and Rootger stopped at second. Hornsby threw out Gilbert.

Cuyler's double with one out in the second was the only hit accrued by the Cubs of Johnson during the first five innings. But the sixth was something else again.

Schulte and Root walked. McMillan singled to center, Schulte scoring. Root stopped at second. English fouled to Bottomley, but Hornsby singled to left, scoring Root and putting McMillan on second. Wilson doubled to center, scoring Schulte and Hornsby. Cuyler flied to Douthitt, but Stephenson sent his No. 15 homer into the left field stand, scoring Wilson ahead of him. Frankhouse relieved Tolson, and Rootger threw three out. Tolson's sacrifice bunt. Hack Wilson singled to center, scoring English. Cuyler doubled and Hack stopped at third. Stevie walked, filling the bases. Tolson fanned. Schulte singled to left, scoring Hack, but Cuyler was thrown out at the plate.

The Cards made two hits in the eighth, but no runs, after which the game was called.

BROKERS' LOANS IN AUGUST NEAR 8 BILLION MARK

Gain Even More Than Expected.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The amount of credit being absorbed in the operation of the New York stock market now is within striking distance of the eight billion dollar mark. If the rate of appreciation shown in the last twelve months continues during the next year, predictions of bull brokers that the market will be more than doubled in fact, will be more than realized. In fact, it is entirely likely that such loans, including those made in other security markets, already overtop that figure.

The New York stock exchange last year issued its members on security collateral. The total on Aug. 30 stood at $7,881,619,426, a new high mark. This marked an increase of $67,338,127 during August and also an upturn of $2,330,182,021 since Aug. 11, 1928.

Exceeds Expected Increase.
The increase last month was considerably larger than had been expected. The weekly report of the Federal Reserve board on brokers' loans made by the New York Federal reserve member banks showed an appreciation of $187,000,000 between July 31 and Aug. 24, a period of only two days less than that covered by the stock exchange report.

General Features of Report.
The weekly data compiled by the Federal Reserve board from reporting member banks throughout the country show they were lending $7,521,000,000 on securities on Aug. 24, which was $781,000,000 more than a year ago. All other loans totaled $3,429,000,000, or $177,000,000 more than a year ago. But these banks' own investments now stand at $4,456,000,000, or $469,000,000 less than a year ago, and their borrowings at the reserve banks total $685,000,000, or $102,000,000 less than a year ago.

Tomorrow the United States treasury will withdraw $15,545,500 from its deposits in depository banks over the country. About $4,000,000 will be taken from the New York reserve district. The whole amount represents all of the combined amounts remaining on deposit for account of the treasury certificates of indebtedness marketed in June.

General News Cheerful.
News of trade and industry continued cheerful yesterday. The railroad movement of commodities is now the heaviest ever reported for this season of the year. Loading of revenue freight for the week ended Aug. 24 totaled 1,129,533 cars, which also was the peak for any week thus far this year. It marked an increase of 29,266 cars over the preceding week and the was 41,835 cars above a year ago. "The iron production in August was a record for that month and was the fourth largest output for any month," the Iron Age said in its weekly review. "At 1,734,580 tons, the August total was exceeded only by the figures for July and May, 1928, and May, 1923. The decline from the previous month was only three-fourths of 1 per cent. Output thus far this year, at $8,317,700 tons, has established a new eight months' record, forging ahead of the previous high mark in 1928 by 4.1 per cent."

Steel Production High.
The trend of steel output production in September appears to be downward, although no marked recession is looked for. There has been no appreciable change in operating conditions. The middle of this month now is expected to mark the beginning of a fall buying movement.
"Automobile factories have entered September at a level of activity which promises to show a total output for the month equal to and probably higher than that for August," Automotive Industries says. "Manufacturers are confident the year will close with more than 5,500,000 units produced in this country and Canada."
Dean, Roebuck & Co., mail order and chain store concern, reported last month's sales at $25,122,543, the largest for any August in the company's history and a gain of $4,146,859, or 21.3 per cent, over August, 1928. Sales for the eight months this year total $261,361,920, also a new high mark for the period and an increase of $60,000,000, or 29.8 per cent over the same period last year.

Board of Trade Prepares to Start Stock Trading
Grain traders are preparing to make a stock market on the Chicago Board of Trade. Trading will start on Monday, Sept. 16, only a little more than a week off. A meeting of grain traders was held yesterday afternoon to talk over the situation. It resulted in the formation of a security corporation. More than $250,000 was subscribed in 20 minutes and subscriptions were coming in nearly all afternoon.

Tariff Disputes Now Mainly Arise Among Varied Producers

BY SCRUTATOR.

There seems to have been a change from the traditional in the present lineup of advocates and opponents of higher tariffs.

The old division was among those who believed that all products, no matter where produced, should be granted free access to markets, and those who believed it more important to build up domestic industries even if that required the placing of toll against the buyer.

The old battle was between the man who considered himself as a consumer and the one who considered himself as a producer.

Stripped of all verbiage, it was a contest between those who wanted to buy things cheap and those who wanted help in selling things high.

But Times Have Changed.
Now the consumer, divorced completely from his role of producer, has apparently such small influence or is so little interested that he is scarcely heard in the tariff arguments. The people who are arguing for low tariffs are manufacturers who have important foreign markets for their products or wish to import materials, raw or semi-finished, cheaply. The people who desire high rates are, in general, the farm groups and those manufacturers who intend to sell everything they produce in this country, and get all their raw materials here.

As an instance, the sugar tariff controversy will do. The latest proposal of the senate committee is that Cuban sugar shall be levied on at the rate of 2.20 cents a pound as it enters the United States. The present price of sugar without duty is about 2 cents a pound in New York. This new tariff, then, would make the tax cost more than 100 per cent on the product's value.

Consumers Not Protesting.
There has been no general cry from those who will eat the ice cream and the candy and stir the sweetening in the coffee. Sugar consumption in the United States exceeds 100 pounds annually per capita, and each person is to be taxed upward of $2 for his share. The protests about it have come from the confectioners and other manufacturers who want sugar as a cheap material for further processing.

The National City bank of New York puts the case for the low tariff advocates. It relates in its publication that we have industries which are not only indifferent to foreign competition at home, but able to meet competitors anywhere; and that they are entitled to consideration in tariff making.
"They ought not to be hampered by tariffs which raise their costs or which create resentment abroad and provoke retaliatory tariffs directed at them," is one point the bank makes.
The automobile industry is the outstanding example of that. Some of the largest companies in that line are selling a big percentage of their output abroad. The steel industry, it is held, has been hurt by the application of a duty on imported manganese, placed to encourage the working of low grade ore deposits of that mineral in the United States.

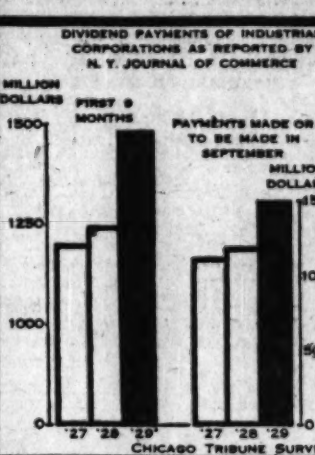

The senate committee has dropped this on representations that it increases the cost of making steel in America and is therefore a tax on every steel using industry.
Something for the Farmers.
The sugar tariff is to be raised solely to benefit the farmers who may see fit to grow sugar beets. Considerable doubt that this form of endeavor will ever be profitable in the United States has been advanced. It is probable that much more sugar will continue to be imported than is grown here.

Even the non-sugar growing farmers alone, in some well informed opinion, will pay a great deal more as consumers than the beet growers will get out of the encouraging tariff.
If the consumers of sugar were conscious of themselves as such likely there would have been a growth over increasing the cost of it. There might have been another growth over the somewhat amusing argument offered by a representative of the domestic fruit growers for a high levy on bananas, on the ground that if they were barred from the country the people would eat more apples.
But the arguments are left to the interested industries. It is increasingly evident that the conflict is between those groups which see their actual business harmed by tariffs and those which see themselves benefited by high levies. The reasoning of the former group is that the harm to be done them is as important for consideration as the benefits that will accrue to the others.

Chicago Curb Lists Stock of Five Corporations

The Chicago curb exchange yesterday admitted to listing 163,500 shares of Polymet Manufacturing corporation new stock, 1,021,054 shares of par class A common stock and 4,084,225 shares of no par common of Arkansas Natural Gas corporation, and 304,150 shares of no par common of Duhler Condenser corporation, trading in all of the above to begin today. Also admitted to listing with trading to start on official notice are 100,000 units of one share $3 par dividend preferred stock and one share no par common of Hamilton corporation, and $1,000,000 of 6 per cent secured convertible debentures and 50,000 units of one share $1.10 dividend convertible preferred stock and one share no par common of Central States Investment Trust.

CONVERTIBLES LOSE GROUND IN BOND TRADING

New York, Sept. 4.—Due to profit taking prices were backed down slightly in the convertible issues today on the bond market. Trading was somewhat less than on the previous day and most of the net changes for the day were considerably less than usual.

The lackadaisical trading in bonds was due in part to the generally low prices recorded in stock trading by high levies. The International T. & T. 4 1/2s dropped 1/4 point and American Telephone convertible 4 1/2s were down 1/4 point. Atchison convertible 4 1/2s after totalling the previous high of 165, sold off to 163 unchanged for the day. Allegheny corporation 5s were weaker although the 5s of 1944 reached a new peak at 111 1/2. Commercial Investment Trust convertible 5 1/2s were up fractionally in active trading.

Merge Two Oldest Cigar Distributors of Chicago

Merger of two of the largest and oldest cigar and tobacco distributing firms in the middle west, the Nathan Fox company and J. and W. Moos, Inc., was announced yesterday. The Moos concern was founded seventy-three years ago and the Fox organization has been in business thirty-four years. The merged companies will be operated under the name of the Nathan Fox company and at a later date some of the officers of the Moos company will be added to the executive staff, Sidney Fox, president, stated.

AUBURN AUTO OFF 19 POINTS IN CHICAGO MART

Polymet Radio and Parker Pen Up.

BY GEORGE HAMMOND.

Prices turned soft on the Chicago stock exchange yesterday and losses prevailed over gains. Most of the declines, however, were confined to stocks having a very light turnover, such as Auburn Automobile, down 19 points on sales of 250 shares; Middle West Utilities, off 5 1/2 on 300 shares, and Gleaner Combine Harvester, 4 1/2 lower on 750 shares.

A few issues ran contrary to the trend on good sales. One of these was Parker Pen, which jumped into the active column with a net gain of 2 1/2. It was reported that the company has surpassed all 1928 sales and earnings records during this year. Art Metal Works again reflected expectations of favorable dividend action with a rise of 2 points.

Polymet Gains on Molon.
Polymet led the radio list with a 4 point climb to $1 following the action of the directors, who voted to split the stock three for one to stockholders of record Sept. 18. The directors also placed the new stock on a $1 annual cash basis with the declaration of 25 cents quarterly and a 4 per cent stock dividend rate, payable 1 per cent quarterly.

The new cash dividend rate is equivalent to $1 a share on the old stock, which paid $2.50 a share. Net Greene, vice president, stated that August sales came to $549,000 against $589,000 a year ago. Zenith Radio advanced 1 1/2 and Grigsby-Grunow was down 1/4.
Cord corporation sold at a new high of 26 1/2, then eased a bit to finish with a fractional net gain on the day. Bendix Aviation was off 1/4 point and Borg-Warner was down 1/4. Pines Winterfront eased a point.
Kalamazoo Stove Declines.
Kalamazoo Stove was off 1 1/2 on small sales. The company reported record shipments for August with a gain of 23 per cent over the shipments for the same month last year. Hart Carter was fractionally higher on announcement that total sales for the

Curb Traders Nervous Over Loan Report

New York, Sept. 4.—The action of securities on the curb exchange today indicated that speculators were showing nervousness over the extent of the increase in loan figures for the month published late this afternoon by the New York stock exchange. Even the utility group was under the handicap of heavy profit taking sales which tended to lower prices from one to several points.

Electric Bond and Share sold off 4 1/2 points and United Gas Improvement dropped 4 1/2 points. American Super Power was under moderate pressure. Associated Gas and Electric A was again a strong point, however, rising into new high territory at 70, up 3 1/2 points, and Inland Utility Investment was in fair demand.

Several points of strength again appeared in the industrial issues. Polymet Manufacturing was sent up 3 points to record levels on announcement of a proposed 3 for 1 splitup. L'Air Liquide, the newly listed French chemical, was again in demand, reaching still higher record levels, and Guardian Fire Assurance sold at still another new top in response to its earnings statement for the first half, showing net almost equal to that for the entire year of 1928.

Minnesota Honeywell reached another new peak. Aluminum company more than regained yesterday's loss, and Niles-Bement-Pond was buoyed up by the recent appreciation of its holdings in Bendix Aviation. Tubize Artificial Silk was a weak spot, tumbling 17 1/2 points, and Duhler Condenser was again under pressure, dropping to 15. The stock recently bounded up to 20 on optimistic predictions as to the results of its patent suit victory over Radio corporation.

Ford Seeking German Auto Plant, Berlin Ramor

BERLIN, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The Boersen Courier reported today Henry Ford was negotiating for a new plant in West Germany to take care of the increased business. It said the plant would be larger than the one in Berlin, which last month assembled 1,200 cars, and will also manufacture parts for distribution not only in Germany, but throughout Europe. The Ford company was known to be negotiating for a site at Cologne or Neuss. Frankfurt also was under consideration, but the former cities were held to be more suitable because of extensive shipping facilities.

RADIO, MOTORS RISE AS OTHER LEADERS FALL

Some Lose One to Seven Points.

BY FRED HARVEY.

(New York stock list page 29.)

New York, Sept. 4.—It was too hot to get excited over stocks today.

So everybody just sat back and let 'em drift. The result was the first general reaction the market has suffered in seventeen straight days. The leading rails, utilities, industrials, and specialties dropped 1 to 5 points. A scattering of individual favorites suffered even more acutely. Auburn Automobile was off 19 points at the finish, while Allied Chemical and Dye was down 7 1/2. Case Threshing Machine 6 and Columbian Carbon 7 points.

The total turnover was around 4,688,000 shares.

Regard Break as Corrective.
The liquidation was due in some measure to concern over the dual prospects of an overnight jump in the Bank of England's discount rate and a further increase in brokers' loans.

Observers here, however, were pretty generally agreed in ascribing it to the topheavy state of the market itself. In fact, some of them thought a session of "corrective selling" had been long overdue and were inclined to view the setback as a healthy development which will redound to the general good, even though it should go considerably further than it did today.

The British bank rate and the brokers' loan scores were merely pegs in the opinion of these commentators upon which to hang blame for the situation. "The market simply had a reaction coming." Otherwise it should have continued to forge ahead as it has.

CONVERTIBLE BONDS

Many convertible bonds offer investors unusual opportunities for profit as well as safety and fixed income return. With the right to convert on an attractive basis into the stock of a sound growing enterprise, the convertible issue may appreciate greatly in market value.

Two circumstances at the present time make this type of investment worthy of careful consideration. First, bonds are selling at prices that make their yield unusually high; second, investors are recognizing more and more the profits to be gained by investing in sound common stocks.

Consider securities of this type when adding to your list. Well chosen convertibles include those investment factors which the discriminating buyer looks for in selecting bonds, and in addition afford an opportunity to participate in the growth of stable, well managed companies.

WHEAT DECLINES WITH BEARISH FOREIGN NEWS

Free Selling Here Drops
Prices 1 7-8 to 2 3-8c.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Weakness in the Liverpool wheat market and a lack of aggressive port demand, combined with private cables telling of a less scattered show in parts of Argentina led to free selling of futures yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade. The market closed at the bottom with net losses of 1 7-8c. Winnipeg was fully as weak as Chicago and lost 2 3-8c for the day. Liverpool was off 1 7-8c, with hedging sales and prospects of unsettled weather in Argentina a factor.

Corn showed stubborn resistance to pressure, and while there were rains in parts of Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, and Kansas, good support appeared on the breaks, and the close was 1/2c higher to 1/4c lower, with September showing the most strength. Oats were 1/4c higher to 1/4c lower, showing independent strength. Rye declined 1/4c to 1/2c with wheat.

World's Stocks Liberal.

While there are a great many traders and commission houses who are bullish on wheat for the long pull, the market has failed to hold advances for some time past, and the liberal stocks of east grain in the positions have some effect. World's available supplies increased 9,735,000 bu for the week, and are now 344,310,000 bu, against 179,725,000 bu last year. With harvesting well under way in Canada, accumulating stocks in that country are expected. Deliveries at interior points in the prairie provinces for two days aggregated 5,439,000 bu, against 473,000 bu last year, favorable weather conditions being a factor in this respect.

Foreign wheat markets have persistently refused to fully reflect the strength shown in North America, and while Chicago prices at the close yesterday were 2 1/2c to 2 3/4c higher than a year ago and Winnipeg up 4 1/2c to 4 3/4c, Liverpool is only 1 1/4c to 2c higher and Buenos Aires 1 1/4c, the latter in the face of persistent drought reports. The Buenos Aires market closed 1/4c to 1/2c lower for the day, with late cables telling of showers in the extreme north and cloudy weather elsewhere. Export sales in all positions were finally estimated at 200,000 to 400,000 bu.

Good Rains in West.

Liberal rains were reported in western Iowa, eastern Nebraska and the Dakotas, and southwestern Minnesota, with as much as 2.60 inches received at one point in Nebraska. The latter state received several showers averaging over 1/4 inch, but the trade generally expressed the belief that rains at this time would have relatively little effect on the new crop. Bankers' accounts unchanged.

Outside interest in oats is broadening, with commission houses absorbing the surplus in the pit on an early break, and later losses were given by the market. Scattered long sold on the upturn. Nat. C. Murray was out with a statement saying that the crop in turning out disappointingly and the weight of the grain is light.

Foreigners were credited with buying rye futures, and the market failed to fully reflect the decline in wheat. No export business was indicated, however.

Dorothy Rend Will Be Bride on Friday, 13th

BY THALIA

Miss Dorothy Rend, member of the Junior League, who once on a bet got a job as a model for a wholesale dressmaking firm, is to be married to "Tommy" Wheelock in New York on Friday, Sept. 13.

Miss Rend is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Rend of 10 East of 100 North Michigan avenue, a nephew of Elmer Wendell. After the wedding in New York, Mr. and Mrs. Wheelock will go to England to visit Mrs. George M. Wheelock (Mary Wendell).

Mrs. Rend is the only member of the prospective bride's immediate family now in New York, and she will be there in a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Rend and their other daughter, Helen, are now with Miss Dorothy at the Ritz hotel there.

The wedding will be performed at noon in the Church of St. Paul the Apostle, by the Rev. Father Finn, formerly of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church of Chicago.

Miss Rend is a granddaughter of the late William P. Rend, a pioneer Chicagoan, and Mr. Wheelock is a grandson of the late Prof. Earl Wendell, for years a famous Harvard professor of English and exchange professor at the Sorbonne.

There had been no formal announcement of the engagement of Miss Rend and Mr. Wheelock, but as they have been friends for some time there was no great surprise at the news among members of Chicago's younger society.

The Warren Lamsons and their daughters returned to Hubbard Woods on Monday after a month's stay at the Sunlight ranch near Cody, Wyo., and planned immediately into the business of completing the arrangements for the bride of the family, Miss Elizabeth Lamson, whose marriage to Warner Washburne is to take place on Sept. 11.

Miss Lamson's sub-deb sister, Miss Virginia Lamson, is to be her maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Margaret Atkin, Miss Betty Paine, who has just returned from a summer in Europe; Miss Helen Shimmis, Miss Anita Tim of Pittsburgh, Pa., and the younger sister of the bride-to-be, Miss Jean Lamson.

Robert Bronson of Grand Rapids, Mich., is to be best man for Mr. Washburne. The pre-nuptial parties will all have to be sandwiched in between the numerous debut affairs taking place on the north shore. George Booth is to give a dinner for the wedding party on Saturday night of this week at the Elbow Country club, and Miss Atkin is to give a kitchen show or a week from Saturday. The wedding is to be in the gardens of the Lamson residence, where a marquee is to be put up for dancing during the reception after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Lamson are giving the bridal dinner on the eve of the wedding, following the rehearsal, and are asking a group of young people to come in later in the evening for dancing under the marquee.

The English-Speaking union and the Council of Foreign Relations are sending forth invitations for a joint luncheon at the Red Lagoon room of the Palmer house a week from today at 1:30 o'clock. George Young, who has been conducting a round table at Williamstown, Mass., this summer on "Post-War Constitutional Changes in Europe" is to be the speaker, with "The British Labor Party" as his subject. Victor Elting, who is a member of both the organizations sponsoring the meeting, is to preside.

The Skokie Country club will present the last of its series of summer musicals next Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grant Northrup have issued invitations for the marriage on Sept. 21 of their daughter, Hope Whipple, to William Lovell Underwood of the Ambassador hotel, to take place at the Centerville Methodist church at West Warwick, R. I. Mr. Underwood is the son of the late William T. Underwood of Highland Park and of Mrs. Frederic W. Peterson of

TO WED IN NEW YORK

Ann Arbor, Mich. Thomas J. Underwood is to be best man for his brother, Mr. Underwood and his bride are to live in Chicago, where she has visited and is well acquainted.

Mrs. Benjamin H. Marshall of 289 Lake Shore drive and her daughter, Miss Dorothy Marshall, have left for New England. Miss Marshall is attending a house party at Swampscott and Mrs. Marshall is in Boston. The Marshall's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Fleming, are coming in from Kenilworth, where they have had a house for the summer, about the middle of this month.

Mrs. Ayres Beal of Winnetka and her son, Thomas, returned recently from a six months' trip in Europe, and have departed for Charlevoix where they will occupy the Beal's summer place for a few weeks.

Miss Jane McKinley of Hubbard Woods is expecting a schoolmate, Miss Frances Smith of Providence, R. I., to arrive next week to be her guest, and to be present at her debut tea on Sept. 11, to be given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clegg McKinley.

Miss Margaret Atkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Atkin, has returned from a visit with Miss Mary Ott at Minocqua, Wis., her sister, Adelaide, is back from a 10 days' visit with the Rowell Masons at Lac du Flambeau, and the Atkins, themselves, returned recently from a short trip in Wisconsin and Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Holmquist, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Price Bell of Evanston are to return in a few days from a three months' European trip. John Bell returned from Europe last week.

students' conference includes consideration of the relations between church and state.

Any error in this matter originates precisely from a wrong understanding or poor knowledge of the different nature and scope of the two powers.

History teaches that controversies which perturbed the relations of state and church were born from ignoring the nature and end of the church.

The divine institution of the church places it and its mission above any natural institution such as the state, whose rights and attributions the church does not injure. On the contrary, it uplifts and protects them for the welfare of mankind.

Hence it is necessary that the church and state proceed harmoniously towards the attainment of their respective scopes.

To pit the state against the church means to perturb the providential order in human association and injure both the individual and the community.

The pope's message was prompted by the fact that the agenda of the History teaches that controversies which perturbed the relations of state and church were born from ignoring the nature and end of the church.

The divine institution of the church places it and its mission above any natural institution such as the state, whose rights and attributions the church does not injure. On the contrary, it uplifts and protects them for the welfare of mankind.

Hence it is necessary that the church and state proceed harmoniously towards the attainment of their respective scopes.

To pit the state against the church means to perturb the providential order in human association and injure both the individual and the community.

The pope's message was prompted by the fact that the agenda of the students' conference includes consideration of the relations between church and state.

Any error in this matter originates precisely from a wrong understanding or poor knowledge of the different nature and scope of the two powers.

Why Wear a Shoe That Cramps Your Foot, n' Style, Too?

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

A woman ahead on the street was walking as if every step were agony. The whole foot was lifted for each step—no rising on the balls of the feet. Closer inspection showed the brief, round toe shoe with the shortest vamp I ever saw.

Sitting down in a comfortable arm chair at one's dressing, it might have been a neat foot to stretch out for inspection. But for street wear it was obviously so ill fitting that it didn't look smart, at all.

This type of shoe is often affected because it gives the illusion of shorter length to the foot. But nobody is fooled if you can't walk smartly in a shoe. And besides, who cares now, days if you wear a six or a seven? It's a silly idea of a woman who hopes to register her foot as a three, four or five, even when it obviously would feel more comfortable in a six or seven. The length, or rather the shortness of a foot, no longer determines foot style.

A dainty foot on a dainty girl, of course, is a pleasure to see. But trying to make a foot look dainty on a girl of athletic build or of five foot eight or heavy bodied is silly because it is so unnecessary in enconium winning. A seven shoe, if it lets the wearer step up smartly, or when she is sitting lets the foot lie at ease inside of it, has far more chic than a cramping, crowding piece of footwear. Feet are so awfully important in Pepper Hashes.

The proportions of ingredients of pepper hashes may vary in taste. These pepper hashes are sometimes called cabbage and pepper salads. They are really a sort of relish popular as a little accompaniment to both meat and fish. One old type of pepper hash, which was also called a Pennsylvania Dutch cold slaw, was formerly highly popular with corned beef hash. When these pepper hashes are made and canned they are really of the pickle order, but they are not as wholesome as when freshly prepared. The following proportions are just enough for a pepper hash: One red sweet pepper, one green sweet pepper, one pound of cabbage, one scant teaspoon each of mustard and celery seed, with diluted vinegar enough to cover the ingredients, which have been chopped fine, mixed and packed hard. Sometimes much more cabbage than this is used.

One of the old ways to prepare cabbage for making a pickled pepper hash was to cut it and chop it fine, sprinkle each pound of the chopped cabbage with a teaspoon of salt, mash it down hard and let it stand for an hour, when the water from the cabbage will have come out and can be drained away.

In this day and generation no one would throw it away as formerly. The real reason for this procedure was that the blood was better when the cabbage was softened by this treatment. Another way of softening the cabbage is to pour boiling water over it when it is cut fine, then cold water with ice, but in these cases something of the virtue of the cabbage is lost.

The peppers should be chopped exceedingly fine and added to the cabbage with the other seasonings, and then the vinegar. These hashes when severely sour are not agreeable, that is, few people would find them agreeable mixed with a great deal of vinegar. Make the amount per pound of cabbage as much less than a cup as can be managed by packing it hard. For immediate use this combination may be called a salad relish, and instead of vinegar mixed with a French dressing. It is the red sweet pepper that makes these pepper hashes so attractive in appearance. It is careful seasoning that makes their taste so agreeable on the tongue.

the scheme of smart women that you can't afford to raise a corn or a blister. It cramps your walking style—yes, and your talking style, too, and it certainly ruins your smile. There's no use on earth trying to tell women to wear common sense heels with their chiffons. Besides, they don't like to be told it. They can put on their "spikes" for dress up, if they don't dress up in them too often. But what we are pleading for is the look of sense and comfort and smartness of the street shoe.

Provide Love and Approval at Home for Your Children

Book on the care of babies by Miss Carolyn Conant, Tax Director, a national authority on the subject, can be had from the Tribune Public Service Office, 1 South Dearborn street, for 50 cents, or by mail for 60 cents.

The fact that there are two sides to every question is one that helps to make life—and thinking—interesting.

Each a conclusion that is really a sound one—and then we see that we cannot throw ourselves headlong into carrying it out because usually it needs modifying in order to work out to the best advantage—or to suit our own world. This last factor is one we have to consider constantly in "raising" our children. Here is a paragraph from a modern young mother's letter:

"I want to thank you for the article on keeping children self-conscious. Our baby is a little parrot and repeats as many words and sounds that it is a pleasure to pay too much attention to him and it naturally attracts the attention of others. I hope we can keep our own childhood how my own mother tried to do this. But I think she carried it to an extreme. I may have been an attractive child [you see I am not sure to this day], but she never said anything to me or let me hear others to. And I did so long for some comfort favorable to me. It almost gave me an inferiority complex."

"So I think mothers should make up for this lack if they do not allow the comments of others to reach a child's ears. He should feel that at least in mother's eyes he is the nicest and best child even though she is fully conscious of his faults."

This is a good point well taken. You may give your child that important freedom that self-consciousness never gives, but you need not do it by withholding your approval.

It hurts no one, large or small, to know that someone who is dear to him, loves him, and approves of him. With children this can be felt if they have loving and approving parents, if the parents will be sure to let their feelings shine through the mist of every day routine.

But with older children, girls and boys who are nearly young women and men, something more definite is often needed. They are going out into a different sort of social life and they crave warmth and admiration at home. They often feel qualms about their looks, their physique, their manners. It gives them faith in themselves to feel sure of home love, approval, and interest.

"Do I look nice tonight, daddy?" is often a girl's wistful longing for a reassurance of her father's love and faith in her that she can carry with her to the party and the world outside. (Copyright, 1929, by The Chicago Tribune.)

BEAUTY ANSWERS

By ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.
MRS. F. U. L. YOU EAT TOO heartily and do not get sufficient exercise to offset the amount of food taken. I have a set of twelve exercises which I may do every morning. Send a stamped addressed envelope for them. Cut down on your food, eliminating the rich desserts and sweets for a while.

KOTEX IS SOFT...

1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into a delicate, lasting softness.

2—Safe, secure... keeps your mind at ease.

3—Kotex filler is far lighter and cooler than cotton, yet absorbs 3 times as much.

4—In hospitals... Kotex is the identical material used practically exclusively by surgeons in 85% of the country's leading hospitals.

5—Deodorizes, safely, thoroughly, by a patented process.

Kotex—45¢ for 12—at any drug, dry goods or department store.

Kotex Super-Size—65¢ for 12.

Women appreciate, too, the ease with which Kotex disposes. There's no more fuss and laundering. The layers of filler can easily be adjusted as needed. Kotex brings complete sanitary comfort to summer's most trying days.

Obtainable everywhere.

85% of hospitals use Kotex filler

Can you imagine any more eloquent tribute to Kotex than that? Surveys in 85% of the hospitals in this country select Kotex filler (Cellucotton absorbent wadding) for their patients! Not only for sanitary pads, but also for surgical dressings! This is the same, identical, Kotex-made Cellucotton.

Tweed Continues for Sports Wear

Indications are that weather conditions have made this an unusual year for the spread and development of apple scab, says T. J. Talbert, chairman of the department of horticulture of the Missouri College of Agriculture.

Due to serious infections, the fruits of susceptible varieties already are dropping. The more resistant sorts show the black spots which will lower their grade and keeping qualities.

Injury due to apple scab will be great enough to convince the fruit grower that he must be prepared to spray properly, timely, and thoroughly against apple scab as well as the codling moth and other pests.

The unusual outbreak or infection of apple scab has been demonstrated the value of spraying at the right time and properly, because orchards that were sprayed show little, if any, infection due to scab.

On the other hand, orchards which have produced fairly good crops in many years will produce fruit this year of a low grade and of unmarketable character where the spray schedule has not been observed.

While the scab now has run its course and nothing can be done at this time to save the fruit and foliage showing infection, determined resolution to spray made while the injury is apparent should help materially to control the disease next year.

It should always be remembered that the attack may be as serious another year as it is this, and to control the disease the proper spray applications must be made.

A FRIEND IN NEED

By SALLY JOY BROWN.

A Touching Appeal.

"I wonder if some one cannot spare a baby buggy for the W. twins. They are just a year old and so heavy their mother is no longer able to carry them, especially since she has a weak heart and has recently developed a hernia. Mrs. W. thinks if she could have a double carriage she might sometimes get out in the air and sunshine, which all of them sorely need."

Now that your twins have outgrown the use of their comfortable carriage, won't you pass it on to this less fortunate mother? The babies would be sure to benefit greatly by it, and Mrs. W. would be relieved of a cumbersome burden.

UGLY Duckling

DO you hesitate to wear sleeveless dinner and evening gowns of dark, roughened "ugly duckling" fabric?

THING Hand Crete (pronounced "think")—an entirely new and specialized cream scientifically prepared for hands and elbows, different from anything you have ever used, will make your elbows soft and white. You can actually see THING roll out the dirt. The soothing, softening, whitening effect is immediately apparent. It is the convenient tube, at 60¢, really costs less than most other preparations for hands and elbows because so little need be used each time.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published in "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address: Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune, 435 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. Write up your letter of the paper. No manuscripts returned.

A Sad Mistake.

My most embarrassing moment occurred a few days ago, after I had been introduced to a very popular girl whom I had always wished to know as a friend.

We were sitting in a neighbor's back yard talking. The sun was shining very brightly, which of course made it very hot. Just as my newly acquired friend said, "I am going up north for a week during the last part of July," the sun hid behind a cloud and I burst out, "O, what a relief." Of course she thought I meant that spraying at the right time and properly, because orchards that were sprayed show little, if any, infection due to scab.

On the other hand, orchards which have produced fairly good crops in many years will produce fruit this year of a low grade and of unmarketable character where the spray schedule has not been observed.

A Case of Talking.

One day at breakfast my mother remarked to my father about the talkativeness of a certain Mrs. Jones, a neighbor of ours. My father agreed that she was greatly afflicted.

That afternoon the doorbell rang, and my little brother, David, aged six, came to answer it. "You can imagine my mother's embarrassment when she heard David say in surprise, 'Hello, Mrs. Jones, I thought you were sick.'"

"Why had you thought I was sick," David asked.

"Well," he answered, "this morning I heard mother tell dad that you had had a case of talkativeness!" J. W.

We have a half million dollars of foreign exchange in a few days we were able to get out of the country. A number of those who expect to see the dollar rise, say the fastest selling time in the history of the dollar was without cost valuable from the perspective of the writer and a producer and will be a great deal of money. There is an opportunity of a kind of a great deal of money. Pure Oil Bldg. 35 E.
